Water Loss Heavy In 2 Line Breaks

Service Pipes Give Way

50,000 Gallons Believed Wasted

Two breaks in water lines in Mansfield over the week-end cost the city between 25,000 and 50,000 gallons of water, it was estimated today.

One of the week-end breaks occurred on Glessner avenue between Blymyer avenue and Wood street. Water seeped up through the street and flowed to the catch basins on both sides of the street.

The break occurred Saturday night, but workmen didn't start repairs until this morning.

The second break occurred on South Main street, south of the intersection with Lexington avenue.

Sanitary Engineer B. V. BeVier, who estimated the amount of water lost at the breaks, said that it was hard to determine just how much water was lost, and that his figures represent minimums based on second-hand reports of how fast the water was flowing.

USE COPPER PIPE

Water department crews today were repairing the breaks in the rusted iron three-quarter inch service pipes and replacing them with durable copper tubing.

O. C. Kalbfleisch, water department superintendent, explained that the breaks in the service lines leading from the mains to private homes occur quite frequently. Nine breaks were reported last week.

"We have repaired about one-fourth of the 12,000 service lines in the city and have replaced the old iron pipe with copper tubing that will last indefinitely," he said.

He added that the department hopes to replace all worn out iron pipe with copper pipe.

Milan Roads Blockaded

MILAN—(U.P.)—Army troops and police blockaded all main roads into Milan today to prevent communist reinforcements from entering the city in the wake of a week-end clash with 15,000 leftist demonstrators in which a policeman was killed.

At least 24 other persons were injured when the leftists, celebrating the third anniversary of the liberation of Milan, defied police restrictions and marched through the city to Loreto Square, where Mussolini was strung up by the heels in 1945.

Three separate clashes developed and gunfire was exchanged in at least one instance. A persistent rain broke up the demonstrators and calm returned to the city late last night.

Leftist threats of renewed rioting however, brought strong army reinforcements into the city. Troops supported by armored cars, tanks and machine guns were placed at all key points inside the city and on the outskirts.

2 Die, 31 Hurt In Train Wreck

ADAMSVILLE, Ala.—(AP)—An engineer and woman passenger were killed and 31 other persons were injured when a Miami-Chicago passenger train plunged down an embankment near here yesterday.

The locomotive and tender, a combination baggage-dormitory car and two pullman cars of the Illinois Central railroad's Sun Chaser plunged down the steep 100-foot embankment. Adamsville is about 15 miles northeast of Birmingham.

Twenty-three baseball players from the Sheboygan, Wis. Indians and the Cairo, Ill. club of the Brooklyn Dodgers training camp at Vero Beach, Fla., proved themselves heroes by rescuing passengers from the wreckage and administering first aid. The players applied first aid until doctors arrived.

Hospital Approved

COLUMBUS —(INS)— The state health department received approval today from the U. S. surgeon general for a 74-bed general hospital at Nelsonville. Health Director John D. Porterfield said the unit would cost $1,176,000 under the 15-million-dollar, five-year, federal aid plan.

800 Jobs Open In 3 Months

Mansfield employers are expected to add 575 employes to their work force by May and 260 more by July, according to C. W. Handley, manager of the Mansfield office of the Ohio State Employment Service.

About four-fifths of the additions will be men, hired principally in manufacturing, if materials, especially steel, pig iron, coal and coke are available. A number of local factories will probably shut down for one or two weeks in July for vacations. This will tend to level off requirements for workers at that time, Handley said.

Peak demand in the construction industry is expected to occur in September when requirements will more than double March employment of 123. Construction firms increased their hiring last month.

Employment in 40 major Mansfield firms was 17,911 in March, about the same as in January. From Jan. 1 to March 15 employment in manufacturing advanced slightly. The increase was confined to five of the 15 factories surveyed. Only one factory suffered a significant decline in this period. All the gains in employment in manufacturing were among men. Employment of women in plants fell off somewhat.

STORE STAFFS CUT

Retail trade establishments reduced their staffs by 195 between January and March. A large part of these reductions were seasonal. The greatest porportion of the 266 women who left jobs were in the retail trade. Many of these were only working temporarily for the spring season.

The present short supply of workers available will be increased by about 700 high school graduates and some university students at the close of the school year.

Persons claiming unemployment benefits dropped from a weekly average of 277 in February to 223 in March.

$100,000 Set As Club Loot

CHESAPEAKE, O.—(AP)— One of some 40 victims confirmed today that four men armed with tommy guns robbed the Continental club early today.

There was no estimate of the loot, but rumors persisted from the guests and establishment itself the total might have been upwards of $100,000.

Lawrence county and Huntington, W. Va., police steadfastly defied knowledge of the robbery, carried out in gang-fashion style about 3 a. m.

The eyewitness victim, a traveling salesman who refused to permit use of his name, said the guests and employes of the plush establishment were lined against a wall and robbed individually.

"They seemed to know where they were and what they were doing," the eye-witness said. "Three of them looked to be in their late 30s, and the other was older. I understand another man and possibly two or three remained outside."

None of the bandits wore masks.

Britons Honor King, Queen

LONDON —(AP)— King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, whose domesticity has endeared them to home-loving Britons, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary today amid Empire-wide rejoicing.

As congratulations poured in from far-off dominions, London plunged into the biggest display of royal pageantry since Princess Elizabeth married Philip last November.

When they married 25 years ago George was the shy and comparatively little known Duke of York. Elizabeth, as Lady Bowes-lyon, was the first commoner in more than 250 years to marry a prince in direct line of succession to the British throne.

SEBALD HEADS ARMCO

MIDDLETOWN — (INS) — W. W. Sebald was named president of the Armco Steel corporation today. He succeeds Charles R. Hook, who will become chairman of the board.

Railroad Strike Threatens

Unions to Set Walkout Date

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The nation today faces a paralyzing railroad strike "within a week or 10 days" unless an agreement is reached by the carriers and three brotherhoods in Chicago.

The strike is threatened by the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen and Enginemen and Switchmen, who have refused to accept the presidential emergency board's recommendation of a 15½-cent hourly wage increase.

A spokesman at the Cleveland headquarters of the BLF&E said that if terms are not reached by tomorrow, a strike date will be announced.

He added that the date probably will be set in Cleveland by the brotherhoods' negotiating committee and the heads of the unions. They are Grand Chief Alvanley Johnson of the BLE, President D. B. Robertson of the BLF&E and A. J. Glover of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

"The walkout will be within a week or 10 days from now," the spokesman predicted.

It was explained that from seven to 10 days would be required to allow for an orderly withdrawal by the some 225,000 affected rail workers. That also included the disposal of railroad property and the stationing of union officials at strategic points.

Hospital Ups Daily Rates

Increases Will Average $1

The average daily rate per patient at General hospital will be increased about $1 beginning May 1, Dr. A. O. Fonkalsrud, superintendent said today.

The increase has been made necessary, Dr. Fonkalsrud said, because of the increased cost of food and supplies. An increase of 50 cents per capita was put into force on Feb. 19, 1947.

"The average cost per day per patient has gone up more than $2 in the past 18 months," he said.

"Even with the increase, this still makes General hospital lower in rates than any comparable hospital in the state," he added.

Most ward and semi-private rooms have been raised $1 with private rooms except those in the pavilion, increased $2. Rooms in the private pavilion have been upped $2.50 for private, and $1 for two-bed rooms.

For instance, most small ward rooms have been raised from $6 to $7 and semi-private or two bed rooms from $6.50 to $7.50. Most private rooms have been increased from $8 to $10.

Rates in the maternity department have also been increased. For a five day period of confinement, rates go from $45 to $55. Other periods are similarly increased.

Surgical rates have also been boosted with the exception of a minor local, blood transfusion and cystoscopic-plain, which remain the same.

Mercury Reaches 83

'Heat Wave' Sends Mansfield Outdoors

Suntan lotion, bathing suits and picnic baskets came out of storage yesterday as Mansfield got a taste of summer. The mercury reached 83 degrees in the afternoon, giving the city one of its warmest April days on record.

It was more like the Fourth of July than late April as families moved outdoors to picnic. Many Mansfielders drove to Lake Erie and a few hardy souls ventured in the cold water.

With the mercury at 82 at noon today, the temperature was expected to top yesterday's mark before nightfall.

Hottest spot in the state, which generally sweltered in the sudden high temperatures, was Chesapeake on the Ohio river which recorded a high of 90 degrees. Akron had 82, Cincinnati, 85, Cleveland, 84, Dayton, 82, Toledo, 85 and Columbus 87.

Mansfielders without cars walked in the parks. Grandmothers with tiny tots hanging on to their hands, or sweethearts, arm in arm, thronged city streets and parks. New infants, out for their first sunshine, also dotted the crowds.

TREES IN BLOOM

Motorists yesterday found the spring countryside at its best. Most fruit trees were in bloom and leaves are showing in the woodlots.

The drying sun and warmth was a boon to farmers, George B. Ganyard, county agent, said. Fields where plowing has been delayed due to high water are drying out rapidly, and plowing for oats and corn may be resumed this week. Plowing in general, Ganyard said, is pretty well underway in the rural areas.

The weatherman predicted continued warm and partly cloudy weather tonight and Tuesday. Scattered showers or thunderstorms may occur tomorrow, he said.

Erosion Fills Pleasant Hill Lake Rapidly

Richland and Ashland county soil is washing into Charles Mill lake so rapidly that the lake will be filled in 54 years if the present erosion rate is continued and there is no dredging of the lake. This startling announcement was made today by E. E. Sanderson, chief hydrologist for the Ohio Water Resource board in Columbus.

Two of Ohio's largest inland bodies of water, Buckeye and St. Mary's lakes, will fill with silt in 525 years if steps are not taken to protect the soil, the report said.

Club Wants Medal For Air Ace

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Air Ace Don Gentile deserves the Congressional medal of honor, the Piave club believes.

So, the civic club last night started a campaign to obtain the medal for the Piqua, O., flier who shot down 30 Nazi planes during World War II.

Captain Gentile, now on duty with the air force in Washington, attended the banquet.

Burglars Loot Safe Of $200

Enter Trucking Firm Offices

Burglars obtained more than $200 in cash over the week end by prying open a steel wall vault in the offices of the Commercial Motor Freight, Inc., 455 Park avenue east, company spokesmen said.

The burglars tried to open the office safe, but succeeded only in prying off the combination lock, police said.

Robert J. Mohler, office manager, said the burglary occurred Saturday night or early Sunday. Losses may go higher since office workers were still checking missing funds today.

Mohler said there was only a small amount of money in the larger safe which defied the burglars.

DISCOVERS LOSS

The theft was discovered at 6 a. m. Sunday by Evan J. Wright, garage forman and Donald Hass, dock foreman.

Police investigation disclosed that the establishment was entered sometime between 5:30 p. m. Saturday and 6:15 a. m. Sunday. The burglars entered through a side door on the east side of the building.

They got into the office of the garage department, then on to the dock floor and from there into the main office.

5 Saved In Boat Crash

Boy, 13, Hurt In Lake Collision

Five persons narrowly escaped drowning yesterday when a speedboat sliced off the prow of a rowboat at Pleasant Hill lake.

Hobart Magill, 13, who was riding in the rowboat with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Magill, 627 North Sandusky street, Mt. Vernon, suffered bruises. His parents were unhurt. Air tanks under two seats kept the boat afloat after it was rammed. It was equipped with an outboard motor.

Jacob Craft, Fredericktown, pilot of the speedboat, was thrown into the water with an unidentified companion, when his boat sank immediately after the crash.

Occupants of other boats on the lake rushed to the scene, rescuing Craft and his companion from the water. The Magill boat made short under its own power.

The accident occurred about 3:45 p. m.

Koreans Riot, Reds Blamed

OSAKA, Japan —(INS)— Four thousand Japanese police repulsed an attempt by a mob of 8,000 to 10,000 Koreans to storm the prefectural government building in Osaka tonight in a renewed outbreak of Korean rioting officially the perfectural palaace

At least 30 persons were injured in the battle as the police discharged pistols into the air and turned fire hoses on the Korean crowd when it tried to rush the prefectual palace.

Eighth Army of Occupation, moved into Osaka from nearby Kobe this evening in time to see the Japanese police finish the job of dispersing the Korean demonstrators.

'Ike' Fears Stupid Act

WICHITA, Kas.— (AP) —General Dwight D. Eisenhower says the danger today is "that some stupid act may start a war—a stupid act that puts some nation in a position from which it feels it cannot withdraw."

He declared the danger lies in one dictatorship promoting its own future "through chaos, hysteria, fear and starvation." Others in desperation then may resort to arms, he added.

Pals Watch 'Wolf'-Crying Boy Drown

BECKLEY, W. Va. —(AP)— Three boys watched a companion drown this week-end, in a modern version of Aesop's fable about "the boy who cried "wolf."

Fire Chief Bernard Martin said Robert Lee Tyree, 16, of nearby Dry Hill, apparently became sick while swimming in a fish pond here.

James Lively, 14, one of the party, said Tyree called for help, but his companions at first thought he was joking as he had at other times.

Taft Stays Home to Bid For Support

Stassen Starts Oregon Campaign

(By United Press)

Sen. Robert A. Taft was set today for another week of all-out campaigning to swing Ohio's 53 Republican convention delegates to his camp.

Harold E. Stassen, who is seeking 23 of the state's delegates, headed for Oregon to campaign for delegates there.

The former Minnesota governor will return to Ohio on May 3, eve of Ohio's primary election, to make a state-wide radio broadcast from Cleveland. His campaign managers predicted Stassen would win 12 of Ohio's convention delegates.

Taft will start a week's tour of the state tomorrow, beginning at Dayton and covering seven congressional districts. The senator yesterday cancelled plans to return to Washington for one day in congress.

Taft last week firmly anchored his campaign on the Republican record in Congress. He hammered time after time on the theme that his record was the GOP record and that Stassen's platform was vague.

The two men showed beyond doubt that they considered the "liberal" vote worth getting as they shadow-boxed repeatedly over the "liberal" issue. They ended up, however, by agreeing that liberalism is a philosophy favoring freedom.

Ohio's junior senator—John W. Bricker—entered the campaign on behalf of his colleague today by appealing to Ohio's voters to elect delegates pledged to support Taft. He and Gov. Thomas J. Herbert scheduled several speeches this week in Taft's behalf.

Taft in a press conference today in Cleveland said he was "encouraged" by his present prospects in the Ohio delegate fight.

"I don't see why I should lose any delegates at all in Ohio except by the law of averages," he said.

Player Finds 'Cure' For His 'Punchitis'

One "punchboard gambler" found a cure, Saturday night, for the money-losing epidemic that has hit customers who insist on playing the hundreds of boards, tip sheets and fish bowls that infest Mansfield counters.

After spending well over ten dollars on one 25-cent punch board in a downtown pool room the player started working on a brand new board. The board has 300 punches in it and only five-$5 winners. It wasn't long before the customer owed more than $10 without catching a winner.

He stopped playing and told the proprietor that he didn't intend to pay for what he had already punched out on the new board.

"I can't afford it and I can't stay away from them," he said, "so, I won't pay, then you won't let me in here and I won't be able to lose my money anymore."

He turned and walked out still more than ten dollars short besides what he had refused to pay.

Favors Admitting DPs

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—A resolution favoring legislation to admit displaced persons into the United States was adopted by the National Federation of Catholic College students. Delegates to the convention elected Charles Hogan of Xavier university, Cincinnati, president.

Candidate Charges 'Politics'

Calls Conditions 'Frightening'

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Three fatal stabbings at Ohio Penitentiary within five days demand an immediate investigation, says Attorney General Candidate Paul F. Ward.

The Steubenville attorney, a Democrat, charged last night "frightening conditions" were responsible for the deaths of two guards, Walter W. Zimmer and Samuel P. Chessir, and a convict, Andy Nahalka.

Nahalka was slain by a cellmate Saturday. Zimmer and Chessir died of wounds suffered when a convict escaped from a hospital strong ward last Monday and slashed three unarmed guards with a dining hall butcher knife.

Ward said the Republican administration of Gov. Thomas J. Herbert "must assume full responsibility for any laxity" because it removed Warden Frank D. Henderson recently. Ward described Acting Warden Ralph W. Alvis as "an administration stooge."

'HOTBED OF TROUBLE'

"To play politics with an institution like the Ohio Penitentiary, situated in the heart of the city of Columbus, and at all times a potential hotbed of trouble, is certainly a despicable practice," Ward said. "And look what has happened. Three murders in five days are enough."

State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood denied politics caused the firing of Henderson. Sherwood, who recommended Henderson's ouster, said:

"I agree with him (Ward) that it would be a despicable practice to play politics with an institution like the Ohio Penitentiary—but that is not what caused the removal of General Henderson," Sherwood said.

The welfare director, supervisor of all Ohio penal institutions, had no further comment.

ASKS FULL INQUIRY

Ward said Attorney General Hugh Jenkins should make an immediate investigation of conditions at the grey-walled, mid-town prison.

"Let's have a full investigation of this inexcusable situation and let the public know what's going on," Ward added.

"Whatever the reasons were that the Republican governor had in removing a proven prison administrator like Henderson to make way for an administration stooge never were made known."

At the time of Henderson's ouster, Sherwood said the warden had been in ill health. Later, Henderson said he was "one of the healthiest men in Ohio."

Nahalka, 27, serving a 10-to-25-year term for a Pike county armed robbery, was slain by a cellmate identified as Paul Skarpusis, 25, of Canton. Skarpusis, sentenced for assault with intent to kill, used a makeshift knife, Alvis said.

House Opens Oleo Tax Fight

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The House squared off today for an angry fight over a proposal to repeal federal taxes on oleomargarine.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr., said there wasn't much doubt the repealer would be pushed through the House.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, (D.-S.C.) led the fight for the bill to repeal the 10 cents a pound tax on colored oleomargarine and the quarter-cent levy on the white variety. He charged that the tax was a punitive measure to protect the butter industry.

Dairy state congressmen made it clear that they would battle the repealer every inch of the way.

Roasted Pheasants to Sport Feathers

Lana Weds Tinplate Millions Today

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— Lana Turner of the million-dollar figure and Henry J. (Bob) Topping jr. of the tin-plate millions merge their fortunes today in a tinseled Hollywood wedding.

The 28-year-old actress and the wealthy sportsman, 34, each will be starting a fourth matrimonial venture. And they'll get off in grand style—with typical filmland trimmings.

The ceremony is scheduled for 4 p. m. (Mansfield time) in the Bel-Air home of publisher William R. Wilkerson, the man who first discovered Lana hanging over a soda fountain 11 years ago.

The wedding—described by Lan's studio spokesman as "simple"—will be topped by a champagne reception. The buffet table will gleam with carved ice statuary of the bride and groom, and frozen love birds kissing.

The festive board will groan 'neath the weight of lobsters flown from Boston and assorted delicacies from New York and Louisiana. Roast pheasant, caviar, smoked salmon, hams, turkeys will also be available to the 75 to 100 guests expected.

The pheasants, after being roasted, will have their tail-feathers and wings replaced so the guests can admire their life-like beauty before devouring them.

"It will all be very simple," Miss Turner said.

After the nuptials and reception, the former Hollywood high school girl who rose to stardom will don part of her $25,000 trousseau and prepare to leave on a New York-London honeymoon, with Palm Springs, Calif., the first stop.

They are scheduled to sail for London May 5, planning to be there for the opening of a midget racing venture which Topping is backing. Their stay in Europe is expected to last several months.

Labor Leaders Desire Secrecy To Hide Their Own Machinations

A WITNESS testified in recent proceedings of the Truman administration against a certain unioneer held for deportation as an alien communist that he had acted as a spy against traitorous agents of the Muscovite enemy. He then was asked whether he knew it was a violation of the Wagner act to pry into the secret and, more often than not, nefarious business of unions.

His answer is beside the point of this essay, which is that, licit or illicit, such esponage is a public service whatever any law may say. Such conduct often is —and in this case it was— laudable on patriotic grounds. Any law against it is against the public interest, and contemptible.

Here we have a peculiar group of secret societies, all of them private organizations acknowledging no public responsibility.

They claim the protection of the national government for their confidential affairs, even though they be criminal affairs or conspiracies against the primary purpose of our Constitution. They are not public bodies and very often membership is compulsory rather than voluntary and selective.

But, by sheer effrontery and for corrupt political purposes, the Roosevelt regime undertook to bar the doors of their meetings against all intruders, and guard their keyholes and transoms. The innocent business of a high school fraternity or a sisterhood of suburban wives with a common interest enjoys no such protection, nor the harmless hocus-pocus of eagles, owls or elks.

The real reason for the brawling opposition of the union gangsters to the Taft-Hartley law is not that it clamps any chains on the wrists of the toiler, but, on the contrary, that it strikes off the shackles put there by Wagner law.

The members still are forbidden to speak out against their rulers even though the Taft-Hartley law would appear to release them from the bondage of fear.

If you were a waitress with a child parked in a nursery by day, would you take a chance on your freedom of speech and express your grievances to a reporter except under a solemn promise of secrecy and protection?

Notwithstanding the Bill of rights, there stands Sec. 3 of Article 4 of the by-laws of a typical union of the American Federation of Labor: "Any member convicted of divulging any secrets or business of this local to outsiders shall be fined, suspended or expelled at the discretion of this union."

If the law does forbid spying on unions, Mr. Clark should enforce it. As a starter he might tackle a flagrant and notorious violator, meaning me.

5 Injured In Mishaps Sunday

Week-End Toll Up To 1 Dead, 8 Hurt

Five persons were injured, none believed seriously, in two traffic accidents early Sunday in Mansfield.

A Mansfielder and two New Washington men were injured at 6:50 a. m. yesterday in a two-car collision at West Fourth street and Sherman Place.

Ernest L. Pennell, 24, of West Fourth street, driver of one of the cars, suffered head injuries. Richard Muhr, 25, of New Washington, driver of the second car, and Fred Lufitz, 25, New Washington, his passenger, received bruises and abrasions on their legs and bodies.

Muhr told police he was unfamiliar with the right turn in Fourth street at Sherman Place and started to drive into Sherman Place. Pennell was headed east on Fourth street.

James Raper, 17, Bellville, and Miss Helen Catron, 18, of 178 West Third street, were injured when Raper's car crashed into a utility pole at Lexington and Ruth avenues at 1:50 a. m. Sunday.

Raper, who lost several teeth in the mishap, said he fell asleep and lost control of the car. He was driving north on Lexington avenue. Miss Catron suffered bruises on her legs and arms, police said.

Injuries in the two accidents brought the Mansfield area weekend traffic toll to eight injured and one dead.

Denzil Holt, 19, Cincinnati, was fatally injured Saturday night in a mishap on U. S. Route 42 south of Mansfield. Ted Pemberton, 35, and James Hibbard, 21, both of Lorain, received minor injuries in the accident.

Mrs. Florence Oliver, 27, Delaware, suffered arm and body injuries in another accident Saturday night on U. S. Route 42 near Lexington.

UN to Guard Jerusalem

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(INS)— The United Nations voted today to take Jerusalem under its protective wing to spare the Holy city from further bloodshed and violence. The general assembly voted in a two-minute session to undertake special measures to protect Jerusalem.

Seven nations abstained. They were Russia, Yugoslavia, the Ukraine, Bielo-Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Costa Rica.

Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko maintained that the 12-nation trusteeship council, which Russia joined yesterday after a year-long boycott, is not competent to handle security matters.

It is predicted that a minimum of 10,000 international police troops will be required to maintain the neutrality and peace of the Holy City.

Services Set

Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie B. Hickox, 79, who died Saturday, will be held Tuesday at 1 p. m. at the Wappner funeral home, in charge of Rev. Willard J. Shawk, pastor of the Main Street Evangelical UB church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Detour Set On Route 42

Sewer Job Forces Shift In Traffic

Ashland road traffic will be detoured around the bridge over the Rocky Fork near the Armory for the next 10 days while sewer construction work is in progress there, Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals announced today.

The R. O. Darling company is installing a 36-inch sewer line across the road just west of the bridge and the work will take about 10 days.

Southwest bound traffic will be detoured as follows:

North on Central avenue to Orange street, west on Orange street to Wayne street, south on Wayne street to East Fourth and east on that street back to the Ashland road.

Eastbound traffic will continue east on U. S. Route 30 and will make a left turn on the School road, coming into Ashland road at Madison high school.

In order to aid smooth traffic flow, Commissioner Boals has ordered no parking along one side of the streets on the westbound detour.

No parking signs are being placed on the north side of Orange street, between Central avenue and Wayne street; on the west side of Wayne street, between Orange and Fourth streets; and on the south side of East Fourth street, between Wayne street and the Ashland road.

Miss Van Ness Taken By Death

Miss Margaret L. Van Ness, 55, of 548 Park avenue west, died at the Sprunger Rest home, south of Lexington, Sunday at 10 a. m., following an extended illness.

Born in Tiffin, Jan. 21, 1893, Miss Van Ness had been a resident of Mansfield for the past 40 years. She was a member of the Central Methodist church.

Friends may call at the Finefrock funeral home where private services will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., in charge of Dr. Harry Bright, Methodist district superintendent at Lancaster, and former pastor of the church here. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Dems to Hold Rally In City

A Democratic rally sponsored by the Miller-for-governor committee, will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. at 297 North Main street.

Robert W. Levering of Mt. Vernon, Democratic candidate for congress in the 17th district, will be one of the principal speakers.

Others who will speak are C. J. McLin, president of the Ohio State Democratic League of Dayton; Samuel McAllister, boxing commissioner of Cleveland; Mrs. Jean Murrell Capers, assistant police prosecutor of Cleveland, and Thomas J. Davis, Cleveland, who is active in the Ohio State Democratic League.

Husband Sent To County Jail

Henry Carmel, 251 Grace street, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail today after he pleaded guilty in municipal court to charges of assault and battery. His wife, Josephine, filed the charges.

Robert Hebb, Mansfield, R. D. 2, and Robert Eggerton, Ashland, were fined $15 and costs each on charges of unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

Lester L. Finley, Ashland, was fined $10 and costs for operating a motor vehicle on more than one-half of the highway.

Rites Set For 5-Day-Old Child

Linda Sue Meyers, five-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Meyers of Bettsville, died this morning at Mansfield General hospital.

The body is at the Wolford funeral home where friends may call this evening. Graveside services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday in the Mansfield cemetery.

Grange to Mark 75th Anniversary

By NITA BRANSON

Madison Grange, which will celebrate its diamond jubilee June 13, held a degree meeting Saturday night in the Lucas school at which 38 were given the First and Second degree exemplification.

The meeting attracted Grange officials and members from several surrounding counties as well as Richland county Pomona Grange officials.

In the group was Newell E. Smith, whose father was a charter member of the grange 75 years ago and who at the age of 10, accompanied his father to many of the meetings. At that time, they were held in the homes of the various members.

Although the Grange has at present no regular meeting place, members are working hard on a National Grange contest which will give as a first prize a Grange home valued at several thousand dollars. Madison Grange members have chosen a safety, clean-up and rat eradication program as their entry for the contest prizes.

The degree team which exemplified the First and Second degrees was comprised of 16 members under the direction of Horace Uhl. Five tableaux, representing the five seasons of the year, were deplicted with about 30 members in the cast.

SEASONS DEPICTED

A huge trellis covered with roses had been built for the spring season and the other three seasons were depicted in equally interesting ways. Mrs. Max McFarland was accompanist for all the program music.

Present officers of the Grange include William McClelland, master; Claude Ackerman, overseer, and Mrs. Richard Fisher, secretary.

Among the present enrollment of 220 members are six Gold Sheaf members, whose memberships go back more than 50 years. They are Mr. and Mrs. Newell Smith, Mrs. Laura McFarland, Leigh Rorick, Willard Culler and W. C. Millegan.

Rites Tomorrow For Mrs. Wilson

Funeral services for Mrs. Nora Wilson, 138 East First street, who died Saturday night at General hospital, will be held at the Wappner funeral home Tuesday at 3 p. m., in charge of Rev. Bernard Schneider, pastor of the Grace Brethren church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Mrs. Wilson was the daughter of the late A. F. Spitler, well-known Mansfield business man.

Death Takes Mrs. Lewis, 60

Mrs. Wayve Lewis, 60, died Sunday morning at her home Fairfax avenue. She suffered a cerebral hemorrhage April 20.

Born Sept. 8, 1887 near Hayesville, Mrs. Lewis had resided in Mansfield the past 35 years. Surviving are her husband, Ira Lewis; four sons, Glenn of Chicago, Jefferson F. and Gerald C., both of Mansfield, and Lawrence D. of Bellville; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Ritchey and Mrs. Ruth Bowser, both of Mansfield; 10 grandchildren and four half-sisters, Mrs. Bryan Lee, Mrs. Harry Pifer, Mrs. Donald Jontz and Mrs. Carl Sturtz, all of Ashland.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Vermillion Baptist church, Ashland county, with the Rev. W. W. Wigglesworth officiating. Burial will be in the Hayesville cemetery. The body will remain at the Byerly funeral home in Lucas until Tuesday noon. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Hearing Set On Bridge Job

An open hearing at the site of the Union Street bridge in Butler will be held Saturday at 9:30 a. m., Walter E. Rusk, county engineer, said today.

The hearing was called at a meeting of Butler officials and county commissioners Saturday. The bridge washed out in a recent flash flood in the Butler area.

Rusk said he had asked for construction bids on the bridge from "a couple of contractors." Estimate of cost of repairing the bridge would "run around $7,500," he said.

DEER PARADE—

Driving to work this morning, Kenneth Portz reported that he saw six deer, five does and a buck, crossing the road in single file. After they crossed the road they climbed a hill and stopped to look back. Portz, a construction foreman for the Glasener company which is building a new court room on the third floor of the city building, said he saw the animals on a county road north of Perrysville just off State Route 39.

SACRIFICE—

Those five puppies that brought 25 cents each at the Rural Life Center auction Saturday represented a sacrifice by two small children. Rev. F. H. Eckert of Pavonia explained today that the puppies were donated by his grandchildren, Martha and Tommy Elder of Pavonia. "It was a real sacrifice for them to give those five puppies from a family of six," Rev. Eckert said. "They loved every one of them and wanted to keep them all. They kept but one. If other ruralties of the county will make comparable sacrifices for the benefit of the project, Richland Rural Life Center will be the grandest success enjoyed by this community."

Projects To Cost $263,000

Finance Plan Set For Action

Ordinances to proceed with the paving of seven streets and the installation of sanitary sewers in two others will be on city council's calendar, May 4.

The seven measures dealing with street projects winds up legislative action on the city's $263,000 street improvement program. Bids for repaving portions of four streets have already been advertised and will be opened May 3.

In addition to ordinances to proceed, council will consider borrowing ordinances for the street and sewer projects. The money is borrowed in anticipation of the issuance of bonds and the collection of assessments.

STREET JOBS LISTED

The seven streets to be paved and the money to be borrowed as the property's owners' share follows:

Fairlawn avenue, from Millsboro road to the south edge of the present improvement, $25,400.

Clifton avenue, Main street east to the end of the avenue, $12,800.

Bentley street from First street to Park avenue east, $11,850.

Wood street, from Cline to Glessner avenues, $88,750.

Poplar street, from Ohio street to Sloane avenue, $19,250.

Overlook road, from Crescent road to Davis roads, $28,000.

The two streets to be improved with Sanitary sewers are:

Dewey avenue, from Grace street north to lot 11,716, and Bowland road, from Sturges avenue to lot 7,971.

Calls Inquiry Unnecessary

John H. Selby, chairman of the Richland county commissioners, asserted today that a county board of health demand for investigation of the Shiloh veterans' housing projects was "all uncalled for."

The health board Saturday asked Sanitary Engineer Ray O. Scott to investigate what Dr. Charles Butner, health board member, termed "deplorable" conditions. Dr. Butner called attention particularly to the project's location near a city dump.

Asked if the commissioners would make necessary repairs at the housing site, Selby answered, "Absolutely!"

"We'll fix the buildings to the best of our ability. We've already had carpenters working on the doors and windows."

Drainage from septic tanks used by the four families at the project is now under repair, Selby added.

"There's nothing unsanitary around there to our knowledge," Selby commented. "We know the buildings are faulty—we found that out just as many others did —that's why we switched to trailers for other veterans' housing."

"As for a dump in the vicinity, that is a matter for the health board and the village of Shiloh. The land was purchased by the veterans who asked us to put up the houses. It's high ground, and as far as we know, a good location."

Charles W. King Stricken at 49

Charles W. King, 49, a veteran of World War II, died Sunday afternoon at his home, 142½ North Walnut street, following a brief illness.

Mr. King was born Sept. 16, 1898, in Mansfield and spent his entire life here.

He is survived by five brothers, Albert, Fred, Emil, Ralph and Luther; four sisters, Mrs. Linda Conrad, Mrs. Freda Schulte, Mrs. William Heichel and Miss Frances King, all of Mansfield.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where services will be held Wednesday at 1 p. m. with burial in the Mansfield cemetery.

Methodist Delegates Go To Conference In Boston

Dr. John D. Green, district superintendent of the Methodist church, and Mrs. Green left today for Boston, Mass., where they will attend a meeting of the General Conference of the Methodist church.

Dr. Green is one of three delegates from this territory elected to represent the Methodist church of this district. The others are E. Ray Jenkins, a member of the Central Methodist church here, who will leave Wednesday morning for Boston and Rev. R. H. Hoy of Canal Lewisville. The three are among the 14 chosen from the Northeast Ohio conference, including seven ministers and seven laymen.

From all parts of the world, 754 delegates will gather in Boston in quadrennial session to make laws for the governing of the church during the next four years.

Each of the three delegates from this area is serving on one of the nine commissions which meet in preliminary session prior to the general conference sessions, opening Wednesday. Jenkins is a member of the publishing interests, Rev. Hoy of the membership and evangelism commission and Dr. Green of the state of the church.

The state of the church commission handles all hotly debated social issues such as war, peace, military training, race relations and economic issues, according to Dr. Green.

Some of the issues which this General Conference will consider include a program for the next four years, various social issues, recruitment for the ministry, a supplement to the findings of the rural life conference held at Lincoln, Neb., last summer and a consideration of the jurisdictional system which segregates nearly all colored Methodist congregations within a separate division of the church.

Tribe Rallies for Fourth Straight Win

Sports Chatter

By Fritz Howell
(Ohio (AP) Sports Editor)

HAMILTON, Ohio—Nine Ohio high school seniors received invitations today to play on an all-star basketball team against Kentucky's all-state outfit, June 25, at Bowling Green, Ky.

Paul Walker, coach of Middletown's 1947 state champions, is in charge of the Buckeye boys who will appear at the Western Kentucky Teachers' college clinic.

The players selected by Walker are:

Shelby Linville, George McChesney and Rod Adkins of Middletown; Jim Holstein and Norm Grevey of Hamilton Catholic; Al Steegman of Findlay, Bob Pager of Salem, Glen Hursey, Glenford's three-time all-Ohio luminary, and Dick Retherford, six-foot seven inch Newark, center.

Linville and Steegman were members of the class A all-Ohio team this year, and Pager was a second team choice for the second straight season.

Alternate choices will be contracted, Walker said, should any of the boys reject the invitation for the all-star positions.

The night after the clinic game, the Kentucky and Ohio squads will journey to Middletown, where they will stage another contest, June 26, in the middle gym. Walker said the Ohio squad would meet in Middletown, June 21, practice one day and then move to the western Kentucky campus for a week's visit and pre-game workouts.

All expenses for the boys will be paid, and the all-stars will be permitted to keep the special uniforms and shoes to be purchased for the contests.

"There has been a lot of talk about the respective caliber of Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio scholastic basketball," Walker said. "With Kentucky playing Indiana, and Ohio playing Kentucky twice, we should be able to get a pretty good line on what's what."

★

FRANK PAULEY, Toledo Waite coach, in telling the Hamilton booster club how his boys lost to Hamilton in the practice tilt 24-13, said:

"I know why we lost, but I doubt if I could make you fellows understand, especially if you don't know any more football than most booster clubs. Of course I can say things like that here, but not in Toledo, where our Booster club knows more than the coaches."

The sally got a big laugh.

HAMILTON'S BOOSTER club is planning an "Eddie Miller day" for May 10. It was before that club that the former Cincinnati shortstop startled the baseball world with his blast against his team mates, resulting in his sale to the Phillies. Miller plans to bring a dozen or so of the Phillies along, for the luncheon date here.

He succeeds E. E. Bowman, resigned, as the Iberia superintendent but will not coach. Burggraf signed a two-year contract. He will work on his master's degree this summer at Ohio State or Columbia.

Ken Keltner Pounds Two Home Runs

CHICAGO — (INS) — The Cleveland Indians, after winning their fourth straight game, open a three-game series with the Chicago White Sox today with the thought that they might make it nine straight before returning to Cleveland Saturday.

They meet the St. Louis Browns for two games after the Chicago series.

With Ken Weltner supplying them power with two home runs and a single, the Indians overcame a three-run deficit yesterday in Detroit to down the Bengals, 7-4 before 48,880 fans at Briggs stadium.

It was Keltner's fourth round-tripper in three days, giving him the league leadership in that department.

RAP 3 PITCHERS

Of the Indians' 10 hits off Hal Newhouser, Virgil Trucks and Rufus Gentry, the lower half of the batting order—Eddie Robinson, Keltner, and Jim Hegan — totaled seven. Keltner registered three, while Robinson and Hegan connected for two each.

The top of the tribe batting order failed to produce for the first time this season and Larry Doby especially had a miserable day. The colored star struck out five times, three times against Newhouser and once each against Trucks and Gentry.

However, Doby partially redeemed himself by making a sensational leaping catch against the right field screen of Freddy Hutchinson's bid for an extra base hit with one on and nobody out in the sixth.

Al Gettel started on the mound for the Redskins but was taken out for a pinch hitter in the third after he had given the Tigers four runs on four hits, including a home run by Eddie Mayo.

RELIEFERS WILD

Bob Munchief was the next hurler on the list and he gave up three safeties in nearly five innings. Russ Christopher relieved Muncrief in the seventh and gave up but one bingle in the remaining two frames. Both Muncrief and Christopher were wild, each walking three batters.

Keltner gave the Indians a 1-0 lead in the second inning with his first circuit clout, but Gettel couldn't hold it and the tribe entered the fourth trailing by a 4-1 count.

With two out in the fourth, Newhouser walked Clark, who then dashed to third on a single by Eddie Robinson. Keltner's second big blow tied the score.

JIM HEGAN TRIPLES

The tribe scored two more runs in the sixth when Clark again walked and Keltner singled. Hegan, the next batter, sent a tremendous triple to the flagpole in center field, nearly 420 feet from the plate, to easily score both runners and give the Indians a 6-4 lead.

The final marker was chalked up by Robinson's homer in the eighth.

In today's game with the White Sox, Don Black is slated to go to the hill for the tribe. He is making his first start of the season.

EDDIE ARCARO IS FAVORED TO WIN FOURTH DERBY ABOARD CITATION

Sauer Cracks Three Homers In Red Split

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Hank Sauer, the slugging Redleg outfielder who clubbed three homers in one day to take the National home run lead, and his Cincinnati teammates rested today.

The break came at the end of an eight game week that saw the Reds at the .500 mark.

Three of their victories were over the Pittsburgh Pirates and one over St. Louis. In yesterday's home-run studded doubleheader, the Reds took the opener 7-6 and the Pirates the nightcap, 13-10.

BREAKS A TIE

Sauer broke a tie in the first game and gave Cincinnati a 7-6 victory as he smashed a 400-foot driver over the fence in the ninth frame.

He came up in the first of the nightcap with Johnny Wyrostek and Graddy Hatton on base and slugged the ball over the fence at the 381-foot mark in left field. He made his swing at the cripple after the count was worked to three balls and no strikes.

Sauer got his next homer in the nightcap eighth after Hatton had walked.

Big Ted Kluszewski stepped into the homerun column too. He hit a three run blow in the night cap fifth, giving the Reds back a lead they lost when Pirate Wally Westlake connected for a grand-slam home in the third.

HITS HIGH ONE

Al Stevens, the Pirate first baseman, opened the home run fireworks early in the first game. He hit a high one over the centerfield fence at the start of the sixth.

Fourteen pitchers saw action, and kept the scorekeepers busy. In the first game Bucky Walters and Fireman Harry Gumbert held the Pirates. But five Red hurlers couldn't do it in the night cap.

Max West tied a National league record when he received five walks in the nightcap. The record is shared by several players.

Ohio-Indiana League Opens Tuesday Night

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The Class D Ohio-Indiana baseball league, after four years of operation as the Ohio State loop, swings into action Tuesday night.

Inaugural contests, all under the flood lights, are booked at Marion, Lima, Newark and Zanesville.

Only Dayton of last year's eight clubs is missing from this season's roster, the gem city having surrendered its Class A Central League. Portsmouth grabbed the vacancy.

The opening schedule:
Springfield at Zanesville.
Portsmouth at Newark.
Richmond, Ind., at Lima.
Muncie, Ind., at Marion.

Mike Blazo of the Muncie Reds is the only 1947 manager back at the helm this year. The 1946 Blazo piloted the Middletown, O., club.

Chicago Horse Racing Opens

CHICAGO —(INS)— Some 15,000 horse-loving Chicagoans meet today in a telephone booth called Sportsman's park.

Then and there, the 162-day Chicago racing season gets off to a gala commencement. Featured is the Inaugural Handicap, boasting the same pomp, the same tradition, and for the most part, the same horses as always.

A recent Illinois racing board ruling to the effect that no maidens over six nor horses over 12 may run on Illinois tracks has been considered by many a direct body show to the Inaugural Handicap at Sportsman's.

Ace Golfers Want Locke In '48 PGA

RICHMOND, Va. —(AP)— Golf Stars Jimmy DeMaret and Lloyd Mangrum today opened a campaign to make South African Bobby Locke eligible for the forthcoming PGA tournament.

DeMaret, of Ojai, Calif., and Mangrum, of Chicago, said they didn't like the "attitude" of the professional golfers association in barring Locke from the St. Louis event May 19 to May 25. And they added they'd like to see something done about it.

Giant Pitching Takes Turn For Better; New Yorkers Kayo Tough Braves Twice

By CARL LUNDQUIST

NEW YORK — (UP) — Quiet little Mel Ott, who lets the Giant home run bats do most of the talking for his team, was a joyous gent today because it looked like at long last he had found a couple of pitchers.

At the start of the season Ott, conservatively sizing up his team's chances said "give us another starting pitcher and we'll be as tough as any of them." Now it looked as if he had found not only one but two and maybe even three.

When the Giants started out Ott could look only to Larry Jansen, his 21-game winner of last year, as a dependable pitcher. Behind him he had only question marks, but as the Giants strode home in triumph at the top of the league after four straight victories over the supposedly tough Braves at Boston, he had gotten superlative efforts out of Ray Poat and Rookie Sheldon Jones and a very satisfactory performance from the great Bobo Newsom.

The Giants bowled over the Braves 6 to 2 and 6 to 0 yesterday, winning the opener in the 10th when Walker Cooper smacked a grand slam homer as relief pitcher Ken Trinkle stopped a Boston uprising to gain credit for the victory.

Then on came Jones to pitch a two-hitter, holding the Braves without a safety until the fifth. Jack Lohrke led the attack with a pair of doubles as the Giants were held without a homer for the first time this season, having gotten nine in their six previous games.

The hustling Phils, hanging closely on the heels of the Giants in second place, made it two out of three over the Dodgers in Brooklyn as Emil Leonard pitched a crafty nine-hit, 6 to 3 win. Alarming as far as the Brooks were concerned was the rude treatment accorded their 1947 ace, Ralph Branca, who was batted out for the second straight time, the victim of a four-run, six-hit rally in the fourth.

Russ Meyer of the Cubs pitched the best game of the campaign to date, a one-hit, 3 to 1 job over the Cards at Chicago. George Kurowski got the spoiler, a second inning single and he went on to score on two walks and an infield out. In one stretch Meyer retired 22 men in order. Rookie Hal Jeffcoat led the Cubs at bat with a two run homer and a single.

The Pirates came back to win a 13 to 10 bat battle at Cincinnati after the Reds took the opener, 7 to 6 when Hank Sauer broke it up with a homer in the ninth.

The Indians remained the only unbeaten team in the majors, topping the Tigers at Detroit, 7 to 4.

The Yankees, given a first inning lift on Joe Dimaggio's three run homer, defeated the Red Sox, 5 to 4, but needed relief help from Lefty Joe Page when starter Ed Lopat weakened and yielded all the Red Sox runs in the ninth. Two came in on Birdie Tebbett's homer.

The Senators divided with the A's at Philadelphia, winning 7 to 3 after Rookie Carl Scheib shut them out, 4 to 0, in the opener with six hits to end a four-game Washington winning streak. Ray Scarborough gave up only three hits in the second game but two of them were homers by Eddie Joost and Hank Majeski.

The White Sox won their first game, 4 to 1, at St. Louis after which the Browns won the nightcap, 7 to 6. Bob Dillinger of the Browns and Jack Wallaesa of the White Sox hit second game homers.

Terrific Trio Look Like Good Bets In Olympics

By JOHN GRIFFIN

NEW YORK—(UP)—You can write down the names of the mid-west's terrific trio—Harrison Dillard, Fortune Gordien, and Charlie Fonville—today as sure leaders of the U. S. Olympic track and field squad this summer.

Out of the helter-skelter of three relay carnivals, the Penn relays at Philadelphia, the Drake relays at Des Moines, Ia., and the Colorado relays at Boulder, Colo., these three emerged as Uncle Sam's surest hopes for glory at London. Gordien and Fonville each broke a meet record, and Dillard smashed two.

Dillard, the lanky Negro from Baldwin-Wallace who has been recognized as the world's best hurdler for more than a year, was voted the outstanding competitor at the Drake games and he richly deserved it.

First he anchored his team's relay to a meet record of 1:26.6 in the 880-yard relay by reeling off a 20.7 clocking for 220 yards. Then he skimmed the timbers to tie the meet mark of 14.1 seconds in the 120-yard high hurdles. Only a week ago he set a new world record of 13.6 seconds for that hurdles event at the Kansas relays.

SETS NEW RECORD

Gordien set a new meet record of 165 feet, 5 inches for the discus throw at Drake to maintain his ranking as the world's leading dish heaver. The Minnesota mammoth cracked the old meet standard by four feet.

Fonville had "Bad Day" at Penn, flipping the 16-pound shot "only" and even 56 feet for a new meet record. The Michigan muscle man has beaten that figure eight times this year, including a world's record toss more than two feet further.

400 LOOKS UP

America's hopes for victory in the 400-meter event at London, which have been dark since Hustlin' Herb McKenley of Jamaica, West Indies, started smashing records, got a lift during the week-end from the defeat of McKenley by Dave Bolen at Colorado U. Bolen, ex-Colorado U. ace outfooted the West Indies whiz in a special indoor 440-yard run in the fair time of 49.1 seconds.

Added hopes in this direction came from a rash of fast quarter-miles on relay legs at both Penn and Drake. Topping them all was the 47.7 clocking turned in by Slim Jim Gilhooley of New York university.

DIVING CHAMPION—Zoe Ann Olson of Oakland, Calif., stands on the ladder of diving platform at Daytona Beach, Fla. She won the three-meter spring board diving championship in National AAU swimming and diving meet. (AP Wirephoto).

Gladys Indorf Goes Into 3rd

Gladys Indorf contributed the only change in yesterday's light firing in the News-Journal head pin bowling tournament on the Richland Recreation center alleys.

Competing in the Women's Class B division, Gladys fired games of 91, 79 and 78 for a 258 total which enabled her to slide into third place behind Pauline Shively (272) and Ruth Malaska (268).

George Romanchuck had a 76-75-108—259 in Men's Class A and Floyd Weyhmiller had 83-87-80—250 in Men's Class B.

State Tries For 8th

COLUMBUS—(UP)—Ohio State university's baseball nine pointed for its eighth victory of the season today at the expense of the Quantico, Va., marine team. Gene Brown was scheduled to pitch for Ohio State.

Ted Horn Wins

ARLINGTON, Tex.—(INS)—Ted Horn of Patterson, N. J., has opened the 1948 automobile racing season by winning the 100-mile national championship race at Arlington.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

PITCHING—Russ Meyer, Cubs—Only a second inning single by Whitey Kurowski prevented Meyer from pitching a no-hit game as the Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1.

HITTING—Hank Sauer, Reds—Hit three home runs in a doubleheader against Pittsburgh. His first homer came in the ninth inning and enabled the Reds to win the opener, 7-6. He hit his third and fourth homers of the season in the second game, won by Pittsburgh, 13-10.

DiMag Does What Son Orders

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK — (UP) — The American league must be happy today that little Joe DiMaggio, six-year-old son of the Yankee Clipper, doesn't travel the circuit with his old man.

That young fellow isn't satisfied with anything less than a home run. And when he's around Big Joe usually complies. Like yesterday when Big Joe belted one with two aboard in the first inning against the Red Sox.

"The kid ordered it," Joe shrugged. "What's a father to do?"

The young man did, indeed, order it. When the Yankees were taking batting practice he sat on the bench beside his famed father and listened attentively to talk about the way the crowd usually boos his pop at the plate.

"Jus' ignore 'em, pop," he said with a wisdom beyond his years. "Jus' concentrate on what you're doing."

The curly-haired youngster climbed on Joe's lap and kissed him on the neck.

"You're the best player in the whole world, dad," he comforted wrapping his arms around Joe's tanned neck.

DiMag sat there quiet and happy until the boy slipped down and said:

"You better go up and get your batting practice, dad. You gotta hit your three-five-oh this year."

JOE AND JOE JR.

The big outfielder grinned and asked:

"Say, that's a lot to hit, isn't it?"

"Not for you," the kid came back quickly. "You're supposed to do it."

DiMag went into the cage and little Joe watched breathlessly. He frowned as DiMag rapped out what would have been three base hits. And then the old man cannoned one into the left field seats.

"That's it, dad," the youngster chortled. "Oh boy."

Skipping outfield practice, big Joe returned to the bench and his son climbed on his lap again. They only see each other on weekends when the Yanks are in New York so for each it was a big moment.

"I've gotta ask you something, dad," the youngster said. "Two boys in my class just love baseball and they'd like your autograph."

DiMag winked down on him and replied:

"Sure, pal, we'll fix them up."

That satisfied the youngster for a moment and he sat there quietly for a while. Then, as if it was an afterthought, he asked:

"And say, pop, they wanta know whether you like a curve ball or a fast ball best?"

DiMag gave that a lot of thought. Then he explained patiently that they were both good to hit at if he hit them.

Dom DiMaggio, Joe's brother with the Red Sox, ran across the field and little Joe waved, yelling shrilly: "Hello, Uncle Dom." Then he turned confidently to big Joe and asked:

"You're gonna beat him, ain't'cha pop?"

As big Joe said later:

"What's a father to do?"

AAF Studies Long-Range Jet Tests

Big Fighter Seen Answer To Problem

By WILLIAM F. MCMENAMIN

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Air force strategists are watching with keen interest the progress of tests on their newest long-range jet fighter, the four-engined Curtis XP-87.

They are hoping that this big new fighter will solve some of the problems of providing long range escort for bombers like the B-29 and B-50. This job is now handled by the much slower twin Mustang fighter with conventional propellers.

Some idea of the size of the new jet fighter may be gained from the fact that it weighs as much as the B-17 Flying Fortress. It has a wing span of 60 feet.

Long range bombers on strategic missions at present would be at the mercy of an enemy's home-based fighters. The present combat jets like the P-80 and P-84 with full battle equipment can stay in the air only about two hours.

1,200 MILE RANGE

With a speed of around 600 miles per hour, the present operational jets can travel a maximum of about 1200 miles before they must land. In operating from U. S. bases, this confines them to a defensive role or escort on short range missions.

Curtis Wright, maker of the XP-87, also is at work on a new gas turbine engine, the T-35. It is supposed to burn less fuel and may vastly extend the range of jet planes.

Installed in a jet fighter such as the XP-87, these engines might extend the range of the plane until it could escort heavy bombers on long-range missions.

The XP-87 has shown up well in preliminary tests. But no precise data has been given out on its operational range. However, its range is reported to be more than 1,500 miles. It has a service ceiling of 35,000 feet and a speed in the 600-mile-an-hour class. The air force has not yet placed any orders in quantity for this plane.

He's Doing Something About the Weather

Scientist Finds His Forecasts Pay Off

By FRANKLIN ARTHUR

PASADENA, Calif.—(AP)—Irving Parkhurst Krick is a man who is doing something about the weather, and also making money at it.

Want to know the first Sunday a company outing could go comfortably to, say, Belle Isle, up the Detroit river? Dr. Krick will provide a forecast this week.

Are you a Great Lakes shipper, needing to know when the port of Buffalo will be ice free? Are you a power company official, wanting to know when the thaw will start the spring runoff in the Rockies. Krick can forecast for a price.

But the prematurely-graying, 41-year-old Caltech scientist sees even greater things for his system of weather predictions. He visions world-wide, long-range weather forecasting, which will tell years in advance the best places to grow certain crops, or to graze livestock. He hopes thus to help solve the world's food problems.

Professor Krick, as head of the school's meteorology department, has turned that opportunity into a profitable business. Much of the profit goes back into his own studies of world-wide weather. He is managing director of Imcos, Ltd., in London, A. J Arthur Rank enterprise. A similar forecasting service is operating in Australia.

His connection with Caltech will end July 1. He has resigned, along with five assistants, to set up an independent, non-profit corporation on meteorological research. The school says it will close its meteorology department.

BEGAN IN 1934

Krick, a University of California physics graduate who was a concert pianist and a radio station operator during the depression, became interested in long-range forecasting on a Rockefeller foundation trip to Europe in 1934.

By the late thirties, his system enabled him to earn steady commissions from movie studios, where a day of bad weather can run into the thousands in location costs.

But World War II gave his work its greatest impetus. Gen. H. H. Arnold called him to Washington at the outbreak of war. For months he and his men worked at top speed.

Sent to England, Krick says he found the weather-bound Eighth Air Force flying four to five missions a month. Krick knew that while weather over German targets was uniformly bad, few storms are solid. In less than a year the Eighth was averaging 25 to 30 missions a month.

German military and industry was subjected to tremendous pounding by planes which appeared most fortunately to arrive during a break in the clouds; had the advantage of cover going and coming.

D-DAY WAS TEST

The big test came on D-day. He had told the invasion's planners the weather should be just what they wanted that day; should hold long enough to establish necessary lifelines.

The Germans, with such possible objectives as Dunkerque and Calais overcast, could not determine whether the Normandy force was the main group or a diversionary action. By the time they learned for sure, it was three days later and the foothold was won. Krick came out a lieutenant-colonel, decorated five times by the Americans and French.

"Last year," he says, "overcoat manufacturers anticipated a tremendous demand for topcoats. But if you'll recall, early winter in the east was mild. It was January before cold weather set in. By then most men decided to get by. They did, and spring clearances featured the coats.

"On the other hand, rubber makers expected a boom demand for tennis shoes, unobtainable during the war. But it was a wet, sloppy spring. The shoes stayed on the shelves."

Lessons like that are expensive. Krick believes long-range methods offer a solution.

Some garment makers have asked him to determine what this summer's eastern weather will be. Bathing suit stocks on hand will last into June. The manufacturers must know whether to be ready for re-orders from the stores when July comes. On Krick's recommendation will hinge the factories' spring output.

The Krick forecasting system is fairly complicated, but it boils down, he says, to the fact the weather recurs in a half dozen basic types with no more than 20 variations. Thus, given a low pressure area in a certain position in the Pacific, he can predict that for the next week the United States will have a certain kind of weather. It takes a storm pattern about six days to run its course from mid-Pacific into the Atlantic.

By detailed study his staff has determined that one specific pattern is followed by another, say three out of five times. That may reduce the error at the start to 40 per cent. Taking into consideration the season of the year, the relative position of high and low pressure areas in other sectors and other factors, he believes the percentage of error can be reduced to 20 and improved steadily.

Krick makes no claims beyond three or four months, but loves to guess what next winter may be like. He hopes that continuing research may give accurate forecasts years, or even decades ahead.

Civil Service Test Date Set

SHELBY — A civil service examination will be held May 10 for a junior patrolman for the Shelby police force.

City council passed legislation two years ago for an additional patrolman.

Since that time a vacancy has existed, according to Police Chief Leroy Coffee.

Caruso, Villain Of 59 Films, Reweds His Wife Every Year

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD—(U.P.)—Tony Caruso, the dark-eyed villain of 59 movies, has the cure for ailing Hollywood marriages. The couples ought to get married, he says.

That is, every year.

Tony does. In this town where a lot of folks sprint to the altar with several different people, he stands out like a sunburn. For seven years Tony has gotten married every year—to the same lady.

When Feb. 15 rolls around, he and the missus shakily pace up the aisle. They say "I do," fade into a clinch, and skip town on a honeymoon.

"We're sentimental, I guess," he grins. "We look forward to our marriage every year. The ceremony is impressive. It makes you realize over again what marriage means.

"Believe me, if more people got married on their anniversaries, the divorce rate would drop. Especially in Hollywood. Some couples take marriage too lightly here."

PSYCHOLOGIST AGREES

A psychologist we know agrees with him. He says a fresh wedding every year gives husbands and wives a fresh start.

Mr. C. confesses this idea wasn't what started the Carusos on the annual road to the altar.

"The first time we were married we were so excited we didn't hear the ceremony," he said. "The next year we wanted to find out what we missed."

They went back to the same church in Hollywood. The priest was surprised. He'd never married a young couple over again. Just elderly folks who drop around on their 25th or 50th wedding anniversaries.

The priest read the same ceremony, except for the last line. He started to say, "I now pronounce you—," but recovered gracefully.

The Carusos thought the wedding was a great idea. They decided to make it an annual affair.

WEEK-END HONEYMOON

Every year the Carusos take a week-end honeymoon. Mrs. Caruso (her names' Tonia, by coincidence) doesn't wear flowers. She buys a new dress for each wedding, though. Each time they slip their wedding rings onto each other's fingers. Their knees wobble every time, too.

This wedding-a-year routine brings gasps in divorce-worn movietown. The gents who hear about it usually kid him, says Tony.

"They hoot and call me a sucker," he said. "But their wives think it's wonderful. They tell me they're trying to talk their husbands into getting married every year, too."

LOCAL NEWS --

LOCAL NEWS COVERAGE is the No. 1 responsibility of every American newspaper worthy of the name.

The term "local news" means many things. It includes reporting fires, floods and accidents in Mansfield and vicinity in words and pictures. It is stories of weddings and announcements of births and deaths. It is the recounting of the high school team's victory or defeat. It is pictures and stories of our neighbors; pictures of brides, stories of plays, operettas, concerts and entertainments; it's reporting of civic endeavors, of community campaigns and needs. It is telling how a neighbor celebrated a birthday.

"Local news" means bringing to the attention of the community the operation of its government. It means explaining the acts of government so that readers can understand each one and know how their life is affected. "Local news" means going behind the scenes and bringing to public notice the whys and wherefores of legislation, executive decisions and court determinations, directly affecting the Mansfield area. It means providing the story of where our tax money goes, and why it goes there.

Watching and reporting on enforcement or lack of enforcement of law in the community is part of the business of local news coverage.

Comparisons play an important role, too. Citizens should know what other communities are doing to help themselves to grow, progress and prosper; they should know when their own community is keeping its place among its neighbors. They should know when they are doing their share in carrying responsibilities, or if they are being called upon to do more than their fair share. The public should know when utility rates need revision, when the health or safety of an area is threatened, when industry is in need of more workers, or when employes are being laid off.

Elections, prices, shortages, surpluses, booms, busts, predictions and the day-to-day weather—these are "local news" too. Everything any of us does that is properly of interest to our neighbors; the things we talk about, and sometimes even the things we think, all go toward making the local news.

To provide this service, The News-Journal has more than a score of editors, reporters, photographers and news handlers in its Mansfield office engaged in the daily job of gathering, sifting, checking, writing, editing and preparing the LOCAL NEWS. Throughout Richland county and in other areas served by this newspaper is scattered another staff of nearly 50 news gatherers who send in "local news" from our community neighbors.

100,000 Workers Idle

Meat Strike Enters Sixth Week Today

ending its sixth week today, has hurt not only the packers and strikers, but farmers and housewives as well.

The strike has cut off the wages of about 100,000 members of the CIO United Packinghouse workers. It has curtailed the operations and income of the nation's four biggest packers and several other large companies.

It has cut the supply of meat and has helped boost prices at retail butcher counters. It has cost cattle and hog raisers hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The strikers, themselves, probably have suffered the most. The union has been unable to pay strike wages during the prolonged walkout, and in most states the strikers get no unemployment compensation.

DONATIONS ONLY AID

They have been forced to rely on donations made by various organizations, welfare groups and other unions.

"Things are getting pretty tough," a spokesman for the union said.

Each district of the union has a fund raising committee, and each local union has a welfare committee to which needy strikers go for help. The union also has set up soup kitchens to feed the strikers.

In rural areas, some farmers and merchants have helped supply the kitchens, union spokesmen said. In Chicago the Back of the Yards council has helped raise money for strikers. The council is a group dedicated to bettering economic and social conditions in the stockyard area.

PRICES GO UP

Doctors and dentists affiliated with the American Veterans committee have given professional services to strikers free.

But the biggest contributions have come from the big CIO sister unions, officials said. The CIO United Steel Workers has chipped in $10,000.

The strike's effect on the housewife's budget was outlined by George Dressler, secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers. Dressler said the strike pushed both wholesale and retail meat prices sharply higher at the outset.

But when it became apparent there would be no severe shortage, prices dropped.

In the last two weeks, however, they have been going up again as supplies become thinner, Dressler said. He said this ordinarily is the slack season and that prices normally rise at this time of year.

"But the meat strike isn't helping matters any," he said.

The effect of the strike on farmers was shown in a cornbelt survey by United Press.

George Gross, who has been raising hogs for 33 years on his 2,300-acre farm near Walnut, Ia., estimated it costs him about 40 to 50 cents a day to feed a hog. He said he was losing 25 cents a day on each hog he holds off the market because of the strike. All of his 700 hogs are overweight.

"I have to sell on this market," he said. "The strike might be over anytime. When it is I believe prices will go up because of heavy demand."

He said he had lost between $4,000 and $5,000 since the strike began.

Fritz Siemoneit, who has been feeding cattle for 25 years on his 287-acre farm near Plattsmouth, Neb., figured he had lost $6,000 to $7,000 in the strike. It costs him $1.40 per day to feed a heavy steer.

"If the meat strike continues," he said, "it will be hard on me."

Donald Martin, who feeds both cattle and hogs on his Greensberg, Ind., farm, said his 300 hogs are 15 to 20 pounds heavier than average, and that it is costing him more than $100 per day to feed them. He said he would take a loss and market the animals if the strike continues.

John Hartle, who raises white-faced cattle at Owatonna, Minn., said he had lost about $2,000 because it costs him about$1.30 per day to feed a steer corn and oil meal.

Hartle normally ships to South St. Paul, but the stockyards there is receiving only limited amounts of livestock.

Parker's Champ

HOUSTON, Tex. —(AP)— Frank Parker, Los Angeles, won men's singles championship of River Oaks tennis tournament by beating Billy Talbert, New York, 9-7, 6-2, 6-1. Gertrude Mornan, Santa Monica, Calif., defeated Dorothy Head, San Francisco, 6-2, 6-4, for women's title.

Club Installs Tonight

SHELBY — Mrs. Raymond Dewey will be the installing officer when the Child Study club holds installation of ofifcers tonight at 6:30 p. m. in the Shelby Inn. Mrs. Joseph Reed, Mrs. Harmon Sharrock and Mrs. John Russell are in charge of arrangements.

INSPECTS WEAPONS—Making his first visit as secretary of the army to the Aberdeen, Md., Proving Grounds, Kenneth Royall inspects some of the weapons being tested. Top, right, Royall handles a Nazi gun used during the war. The 30-cal. carbine is fitted with a curved barrel and shoots around corners, while the marksman is protected and unexposed. Left, the army secretary (left), accompanied by Maj. Gen. Everett S. Hughes (center), chief of ordnance, and Maj. Gen. A. D. Quinton jr., commanding the proving grounds, looks up at a giant 43,000-pound bomb—America's largest. Bottom, right, he tries his skill with a 5.5 rocket launcher.—(International)

Send Policeman Back to School

ASHLAND—Patrolman Samuel E. Carmoney of the Ashland police department left today for the London prison farm as the police department's representative at the state identification school for the next five weeks.

Carmoney was designated as candidate for the course after city council appropriated funds for sending a local police officer to the school. At present, no member of the police department is qualified for technical identification work.

Carmoney, veteran of World War II, joined the police force in 1946.

14 Persons Killed In Week-End Ohio Traffic Accidents

3 Die as Auto Hits Train At Warren

Summery Weather Jams Highways

By UNITED PRESS

Warm weather brought thousands of Ohioans out of their homes and into their cars over the week end, causing traffic that jammed highways and city streets which resulted in at least 14 deaths. Three died in each of two mishaps.

The week end traffic dead included:

Harry E. Kidder, 27, Herman Kidder, 19, and Bobbie Redman, 17, all of Rocky Fork in Western Scioto county, killed when an auto driven by Herman Kidder crashed into a concrete bridge 11 miles northwest of Portsmouth. Two other men were seriously injured.

Don Dry, 24, Buckland, and Miss Joan Madigan, 14, Wapakoneta, killed when two cars collided head-one on State Route 197 north of Wapakoneta. Three other youths were hurt, two seriously.

George E. Menold, 66, and his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude McIntyre, 26, killed when a Pennsylvania passenger train hit their car near Warren. Mrs. McIntyre's husband, Orrin McIntyre, 34, driver of the car, died several hours later.

Willard Meyers, 30, of Barnesville, injured fatally when he leaped out of a car driven by Caesar Franks, 29, of Barnesville, when he was afraid the auto was about to be hit by a freight train.

Miss Shirley Holler, 20, Newark, killed in a head-on two-car collision a mile east of Newark on Route 16. Two Newark youths were seriously injured.

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Jacharias, 19, of Rossburg, killed when the car in which she was riding skidded off the road near Greenville.

Denzil Holt, of Cincinnati, injured fatally in an automobile collision three miles south of Mansfield on U. S. Route 42.

Terry Scott, 2, killed when she ran into the side of a tractor-trailer in Sharonville, Cincinnati suburb.

Clyde G. McGillvary, 19, of Ft Oone, Lima, injured fatally when struck by an automobile on the outskirts of Lima.

Newark Tire Plant to Close

NEWARK —(AP)— The Pharis Tire & Rubber company will lay off all production workers indefinitely May 1, President Furber Marshall announced today. About 750 are now employed.

He blamed lessened demand, reduced prices, and increased production costs for the move but said the workers would be recalled as soon as possible.

The plant employs 1,500 when working at capacity

Service Clubs To Hear Barker

Richard W. Barker a colonel in the Transportation Corps during World War II, will speak at a joint meeting of the Optimist and Exchange club at 11:15 a. m. Wednesday in the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Barker's topic will be "Operations Cross-Roads and Neptune," which concerned the D-Day invasion.

Barker was decorated by both the United States and French governments for organizing and directing the movement of the 82nd and 101st Airborne divisions into the Bastogne area when the Germans broke through the Poles. He now operates the travel service in Columbus with a branch office in the Broad Trust building.

Action Dismissed

Stock Market Skids a Bit; Profit-Taking Hits Board

NEW YORK—(INS)—Most stocks slipped fractions today following the market's climb to new highs last week.

Profit-taking on the recent runup was largely responsible for the lower trend. No group was subjected to special pressure and several shares held firm.

One of the softer spots was Southern Pacific, down a point near noon. Chrysler and General motors were shaved down fractions. U. S. Steel sagged almost a point and Bethlehem eased.

Hanna Admits Check Forgery

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(AP)— Mark A. Hanna III pleaded guilty today to a redrawn federal charge involving forgery of two $30,000 checks.

Meyer Memorial hospital authorities said Saturday Hanna was sane and mentally able to answer the charge.

Federal Judge John Knight set Wednesday for sentencing.

Hanna, a 39-year-old member of a well known Cleveland family, also faces a state sentence on his plea of guilty to an Erie county indictment charging larceny and forgery.

Strike Halts Flow of Beer

MILWAUKEE — (INS) — Bottling house workers were called off their jobs today at six Milwaukee breweries by the CIO-Brewery Workers union. Breweries affected were Schlitz, Pabst, Blatz, Miller, Gettleman and Independent.

E. P. Finley, business agent for Local 9 of the union, said the walkout was the result of a wage dispute.

Brewery managements said no beer would be shipped from Milwaukee until the strike is settled.

The union said about 5,500 workers were affected.

Quads Placed In Incubators

DETROIT —(INS)— Quadruplets —three tiny girls and a boy estimated to weight less than 3½ pounds each—were born today to Mrs. Anne Borg and her ex-army sergeant husband, an auto worker.

The infants were born in 45 minutes between 7:14 and 8 a. m., and were rushed to incubators without being weighed.

Providence hospital attendants described the condition of the mother and quads as "apparently normal."

Driver In Fatal Crash Fined $25

Lorain Man Convicted In Mansfield Court

BULLETIN

Ted Pemberton, Lorain, probably will be charged with second-degree manslaughter in the death of Denzil Holt, Cincinnati, Saturday night, Prosecutor Theodore Lutz said this afternoon. Pemberton was being questioned this afternoon at the county jail.

★

Ted Pemberton, Lorain, was found guilty in municipal court today of improper passing at an intersection and was fined $25 and costs.

Pemberton was the driver of one of the cars involved in the two-car collision Saturday night which resulted in the death of 19-year-old Denzil Holt, Cincinnati.

Deputy Sheriff Foster Palmer and two state highway patrolmen testified today. Pemberton, who was not represented by counsel, testified in his own behalf.

The fatal accident occurred on U. S. Route 42, three miles south of the city. State patrolmen said Pemberton tried to pass a car driven by Steve Roseberry, 120 North Adams street, as Roseberry turned left into Hanley road.

The two vehicles sideswiped and Holt was thrown from the car into a ditch. He died two hours later in General hospital from shock.

Two other Lorain steel workers were in Pemberton's car. Pemberton and one of the other riders suffered minor injuries and the fourth escaped injury as did the Roseberry's.

Car Hit At RR Crossing

SHELBY—Mrs. H. C. Harrison of Pittsburgh, escaped injury when the car she was driving stalled on the North Gamble street crossing of the New York Central railroad and was hit by East-bound freight train

The car was badly damaged, but she saw the train approaching in time to leave the vehicle before it was hit.

Mrs. Harrison was driving an automobile owned by her father, Leo Tucker, R. D. 3, Shelby, whom she was visiting.

car south on North Gamble street Mrs. Harrison was driving the and had gotten over as far as the east-bound tracks before the motor died. She was on her way to church at the time of the accident.

Akron Buses Roll Tonight

AKRON—(INS)—Akron's 26-day-old bus strike was settled today.

The CIO-Transport Workers Union and the International Association of Machinists accepted a 15-cent hourly wage boost to end the city-wide transportation tieup which began April 1. More than 300,000 riders were affected. Buses will start at midnight.

End of the walkout followed approval by Akron city council of a fare increase effective May 19.

Baker Will Head State Hospital

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The appointment of Dr. Calvin L. Baker as superintendent of the Dayton state hospital was announced today by Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood. Dr. Baker succeeds Dr. E. L. Hooper, who retired from state service to take a position with the Veterans' Administration in Columbus.

Cancer Funds Total $1,586 With Campaign a Week Old

Does Mansfield want its cancer clinic to continue?

That was the question uppermost in the minds of campaign officials today as they counted the contributions which have trickled in to campaign coffers in such small amounts that today, after a week of solicitation, there was only $1,586.13 toward a goal of $24,000.

"So far more than 600 patients have benefited by the cancer clinic," Richard Wolford, campaign chairman, said today. "But what about the hundreds more who won't have the privilege of the clinic diagnosis if this campaign fails?

"It is more than a city problem —it is a personal one," Wolford emphasized. "For you and you and you may be the one who will most benefit by the clinic. Unless you give, you won't have that chance."

Wolford also stressed the fact that this current campaign for clinic funds is allied with the American Cancer Society drive, not the National Cancer Fund which solicited contributions several weeks ago.

"If you want to mail your donation, address it to the YMCA here," Wolford said. "And make it out to the American Cancer society. Some Mansfield folks have been mailing their checks to Washington."

Of the $24,000 goal sought here, 50 per cent goes to the national organization for research and the other half remains here for clinic work.

Navy Gives Scholarship To Shelby Boy

SHELBY — Darwin L. Sampsel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sampsel, 42 Park avenue, Shelby, has received information from the Navy department, bureau of personel, that he has been selected by the state selection committee as a principal candidate for enrollment in the Naval Reserve Officers Training corps, to begin this fall.

In this program the Navy has selected approximately 2,500 students to start their training and education in the fall of 1948. They were selected from among applicants who took the nation wide aptitude test on December 13, 1947. The candidates will attend a college or university of their own selection providing that the institution has the NROTC program.

SAMPSEL

The cost of tuition, fees, and textbooks will be paid by the government, necessary uniforms will be provided, and students will receive retainer pay for other expenses during college at the rate of $600 per year.

While attending college the candidate will select any course leading to science, plus certain minimum requirements in mathematics, physics, and English. Upon graduation, the candidates will be commissioned as ensigns, USN, and serve on active duty for approximately two years.

Officers Asked To Help Find Girl

Mrs. Edna Sloan, Mansfield R. D. 3, asked sheriff's deputies to help locate her daughter, Pauline, 14, who left home at 7:30 p. m. Sunday and failed to return. Mrs. Sloan said the girl left after a quarrel.

She was described as five feet five inches tall, weighing 110 pounds, and with dark hair and eyes.

CO-ED EDITOR

OXFORD—(AP)—The Miami Student's new editor is Miss Marilyn Chrisman, Painesville. Faculty Adviser Gilson Wright announced her election yesterday.

Plan May 1st Celebration

ASHLAND—Rained out on May day year after year only to have the sun shine brightly that very afternoon, Ashland college is planning to beat the weatherman this year.

Instead of the traditional 10 a. m. coronation on Saturday, May 15, the May day committee is changing the hour to 1 p. m.

Instead of arranging the queen's throne and other background for the May day pageant on the football field as in former years, the committee will set up the whole thing in the college gym.

If the sun is shining by noon on May 15, the throne and other settings will be moved to the football field. The committee reasons that this is no more trouble than the annual scramble of moving everything indoors at the last minute in a downpour of rain.

It's a pessimistic viewpoint but the committee believes the new arrangement may beat the rainy day jinx.

P-TA Will Meet Tonight

SHELBY—Miss Josephine Hoover, superintendent of Memorial hospital, will be guest speaker when the high school Parent-Teachers association meets tonight at 8 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

Miss Hoover will talk on scholarships available to girls wishing to enter the nursing profession.

A group of ten high school seniors will hold a round table discussion on scholarships and how to obtain them. The discussion will be directed by Robert Wendland, guidance director of the school.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO—(AP)—Grains were a little lower at the opening on the board of trade today. Some light showers were received in the southwestern winter wheat belt over the weekend, and more were predicted for today.

Wheat opened ⅛-¼ cents lower, May $2.40-2.40⅛; corn was ⅛-1⅛ lower, May $2.16, and oats were ⅛-1⅛ lower, May $1.06¼-1.06⅝. Prices declined further in the first few minutes of trading.

Ruptured Men Get $3.50 Gift For Trying This

Kansas City, Mo. — Here is an improved means of holding rupture that has benefitted thousands of ruptured men and women in the last year.

Inconspicuous, without leg straps, elastic belts, body encircling springs or harsh pads, it has caused many to say, "I don't see how it holds so easy. I would not have believed, had I not tried it."

So comfortable — so easy to wear—it could show you the way to joyous freedom from your rupture trouble.

You can't lose by trying. It is sent to you on 30 days trial. You receive a $3.50 special truss as a present for your report.

Write for descriptive circular. It's free. Just address Physician's Appliance Company, 5337 Koch Bldg., 2906 Main, Kansas City 8, Missouri.

But do it today before you lose the address.—Adv.

Don't let Sludge smother fine engine performance

It isn't the age or condition of your motor that is eating up gas and oil, giving you poor mileage, irritating you constantly with sluggish, slow, poor performance.

It's Sludge . . . Automobile Enemy No. 1. . . Choking your engine to death, smothering the fine performance your motor can still give you.

In a few minutes, a Motor Hi-Klonic will take out the sludge, every sticky, tricky, gooey drop of it . . . it will get the gum and grit and destructive road dirt and metal filings, too. It will free piston rings, restore cylinder clearances, get life-saving lubrication to every moving part.

All in a few minutes . . . at an average cost. Seeing is believing. Drive in tomorrow and have this miracle performed before your eyes.

Even Take Congressional Directories

Germans Won't Ask; Steal Instead

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Soviet spies in Berlin are now stealing—of all things — congressional directories.

An American back from the German capital, which is now an inland island to the western allies, reports widespread espionage by German employes in secret league with the Russians.

"It is rather amateurish though," he said, "because the Germans like to tattle on each other.

"If a worker in your office is a spy and goes through your desk after you leave, the other Germans break their neck to get on a phone and tell you about him

"They steal the oddest things—U S. postal guides, the World Almanac, reference books on America, and even copies of the Congressional Directory. They steal public military government reports they could have for the asking

"They would rather steal than get them legitimately."

The man said he had no idea why the Russians wanted such material unless they were trying to amass information on America or just keep their German stooges exercised

"I had one spy spotted in my office," he said, "but I kept him on at the request of our own military intelligence, who wanted to watch him. But finally I had to bounce him.

"Then he started stealing for himself. One night he stole a telephone out of the office. The next day he had the gall to bring it in and try to sell it back to the office manager.

"That was going too far. I bounced him."

Plan to Install Floodlights In Park

BUCYRUS — A movement to raise funds by public subscription toward purchase and installation of new flood lights at Aumiller park, suitable for night baseball games, will be promoted Thursday night at a meeting of city civic groups.

Construction of a grandstand at the park, now in progress, has motivated the new lighting project The grandstand is the gift of John Q. Shunk, retired Bucyrus industrialist. The stand is expected to be completed when the baseball season gets underway.

THAT'S A FAIR QUESTION—and the American Cancer Society welcomes this opportunity to answer it, before one of our Field Workers comes to your door for your 1948 contribution.

Part of every dollar which you and other generous Americans gave to us last year went for cancer research, part for cancer education, and part for cancer medical service.

Let's see exactly what those terms mean:

Your Money Went for Cancer Research

There exists no more powerful weapon against cancer than research. Research has given us X-ray, radium, and surgical techniques for the treatment of cancer. It is research which will deal cancer the most telling blows in the future—perhaps, please God, the deathblow which will some day wipe out this dread disease.

For some cancers, the death rate is already on the downgrade. Improved techniques of surgery and radiology now give greater hope for cure than ever before.

Thousands of scientists are engaged in cancer research right now. For this purpose they are provided with an arsenal of expensive technical equipment.

Last year, part of your money went toward the more than $3,000,000 set aside in 1947 for cancer research.

Your Money Went for Cancer Education

Education begins where research leaves off.

It distributes knowledge already gained to everyone who should have it.

The general public must be taught—over and over again—how to recognize cancer's danger signals and what to do when cancer is suspected. This is the mission of the Society's public education program.

Education requires the use of every available means of public information. It calls for booklets, posters, and billboards, radio transcriptions, magazine and newspaper messages to the public, films, and leaflets. Nearly 50,000,000 pieces of printed material alone were produced and distributed by the Society in 1947.

Last year, part of your money went toward doing that job.

Your Money Went for Cancer Medical Service

Medical service backs up the direct attack against cancer. By means of scientific papers, films, lectures and other services, physicians and scientists are kept informed of the latest developments in the detection, treatment, and cure of cancer.

In your own community, the Society operates through your local division, with its Field Army of volunteer workers. These volunteers render personal aid to cancer patients—such as cancer dressings, transportation, and home services. They help establish and staff local detection centers and cancer clinics, and they publicize those facilities locally. The Field Army carries cancer control right into the home.

Seventy-five per cent of the cancer detection centers now in operation derive their support from the medical service program, which also helps to establish and support new cancer clinics.

THAT'S WHAT WE DID WITH THE MONEY YOU GAVE US LAST YEAR.
Now we need more—to fight for the one out of every eight persons still marked to be stricken by cancer. Maybe one of them is the man who sat beside you at the movies last night . . . maybe it's a person who lives on your street . . . maybe it's a friend or a member of your family . . . maybe it's you. Whoever it is, there's hope—if you give! Will you aid the fight for his life—again this year—with as big a contribution as you can possibly manage?

14 Persons Killed In Week-End Ohio Traffic Accidents

3 Die as Auto Hits Train At Warren

Summery Weather Jams Highways

By UNITED PRESS

Warm weather brought thousands of Ohioans out of their homes and into their cars over the week end, causing traffic that jammed highways and city streets which resulted in at least 14 deaths. Three died in each of two mishaps.

The week end traffic dead included:

Harry E. Kidder, 27, Herman Kidder, 19, and Bobbie Redman, 17, all of Rocky Fork in Western Scioto county, killed when an auto driven by Herman Kidder crashed into a concrete bridge 11 miles northwest of Portsmouth. Two other men were seriously injured.

Don Dry, 24, Buckland, and Miss Joan Madigan, 14, Wapakoneta, killed when two cars collided head-one on State Route 197 north of Wapakoneta. Three other youths were hurt, two seriously.

George E. Menold, 66, and his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude McIntyre, 26, killed when a Pennsylvania passenger train hit their car near Warren. Mrs McIntyre's husband, Orrin McIntyre, 34, driver of the car, died several hours later.

Willard Meyers, 30, of Barnesville, injured fatally when he leaped out of a car driven by Caesar Franks, 29, of Barnesville, when he was afraid the auto was about to be hit by a freight train.

Miss Shirley Holler, 20, Newark, killed in a head-on two-car collision a mile east of Newark on Route 16. Two Newark youths were seriously injured.

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Jacharias, 19, of Rossburg, killed when the car in which she was riding skidded off the road near Greenville.

Denzil Holt, of Cincinnati, injured fatally in an automobile collision three miles south of Mansfield on U. S. Route 42.

Terry Scott, 2, killed when she ran into the side of a tractor-trailer in Sharonville, Cincinnati suburb.

Clyde G. McGillvary, 19, of Rt One, Lima, injured fatally when struck by an automobile on the outskirts of Lima.

Newark Tire Plant to Close

NEWARK —(AP)— The Pharis Tire & Rubber company will lay off all production workers indefinitely May 1, President Furber Marshall announced today. About 750 are now employed.

He blamed lessened demand, reduced prices, and increased production costs for the move but said the workers would be recalled as soon as possible.

The plant employs 1,500 when working at capacity

Service Clubs To Hear Barker

Richard W. Barker, a colonel in the Transportation Corps during World War II, will speak at a joint meeting of the Optimist and Exchange club at 11:45 a. m. Wednesday in the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Barker's topic will be "Operations Cross-Roads and Neptune," which concerned the D-Day invasion.

Barker was decorated by both the United States and French governments for organizing and directing the movement of the 82nd and 101st Airborne divisions into the Bastogne area when the Germans broke through the Fuhs. He now operates the travel service in Columbus with a branch office in the Huntington Trust building.

Stock Market Skids a Bit; Profit-Taking Hits Board

NEW YORK—(INS)—Most stocks slipped fractions today following the market's climb to new highs last week.

Profit-taking on the recent run-up was largely responsible for the lower trend. No group was subjected to special pressure and several shares held firm.

One of the softer spots was Southern Pacific, down a point near noon. Chrysler and General motors were shaved down fractions. U. S. Steel sagged almost a point and Bethlehem eased.

Hanna Admits Check Forgery

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(AP)— Mark A. Hanna III pleaded guilty today to a redrawn federal charge involving forgery of two $30,000 checks.

Meyer Memorial hospital authorities said Saturday Hanna was sane and mentally able to answer the charge.

Federal Judge John Knight set Wednesday for sentencing.

Hanna, a 39-year-old member of a well known Cleveland family, also faces a state sentence on his plea of guilty to an Erie county indictment charging larceny and forgery.

Strike Halts Flow of Beer

MILWAUKEE — (INS) — Bottling house workers were called off their jobs today at six Milwaukee breweries by the CIO-Brewery Workers union. Breweries affected were Schlitz, Pabst, Blatz, Miller, Gettleman and Independent.

E. P. Finley, business agent for Local 9 of the union, said the walkout was the result of a wage dispute.

Brewery managements said no beer would be shipped from Milwaukee until the strike is settled.

The union said about 5,500 workers were affected.

Quads Placed In Incubators

DETROIT —(INS)— Quadruplets —three tiny girls and a boy estimated to weight less than 3½ pounds each—were born today to Mrs Anne Borg and her ex-army sergeant husband, an auto worker.

The infants were born in 45 minutes between 7:14 and 8 a. m., and were rushed to incubators without being weighed.

Providence hospital attendants described the condition of the mother and guads as "apparently normal."

COLUMBUS —(INS)— State Liquor Director Dale Dunifon announced today the retirement of Park A. Soule, manager of the Ashland state liquor store. Dunifon said Soule will leave state service May 16, upon reaching the legal retirement age.

Driver In Fatal Crash Fined $25

Lorain Man Convicted In Mansfield Court

BULLETIN

Ted Pemberton, Lorain, probably will be charged with second-degree manslaughter in the death of Denzil Holt, Cincinnati, Saturday night, Prosecutor Theodore Lutz said this afternoon. Pemberton was being questioned this afternoon at the county jail.

★

Ted Pemberton, Lorain, was found guilty in municipal court today of improper passing at an intersection and was fined $25 and costs.

Pemberton was the driver of one of the cars involved in the two-car collision Saturday night which resulted in the death of 19-year-old Denzil Holt, Cincinnati.

Deputy Sheriff Foster Palmer and two state highway patrolmen testified today. Pemberton, who was not represented by counsel, testified in his own behalf.

The fatal accident occurred on U. S. Route 42, three miles south of the city. State patrolmen said Pemberton tried to pass a car driven by Steve Roseberry, 120 North Adams street, as Roseberry turned left into Hanley road.

The two vehicles sideswiped and Holt was thrown from the car into a ditch. He died two hours later in General hospital from shock.

Two other Lorain steel workers were in Pemberton's car. Pemberton and one of the other riders suffered minor injuries and the fourth escaped injury as did the Roseberry's.

Car Hit At RR Crossing

SHELBY—Mrs. H. C. Harrison of Pittsburgh, escaped injury when the car she was driving stalled on the North Gamble street crossing of the New York Central railroad and was hit by East-bound freight train

The car was badly damaged, but she saw the train approaching in time to leave the vehicle before it was hit.

Mrs. Harrison was driving an automobile owned by her father, Leo Tucker, R. D. 3, Shelby, whom she was visiting.

car south on North Gamble street

Mrs. Harrison was driving the and had gotten over as far as the east-bound tracks before the motor died. She was on her way to church at the time of the accident.

Akron Buses Roll Tonight

AKRON—(INS)— Akron's 26-day-old bus strike was settled today.

The CIO-Transport Workers Union and the International Association of Machinists accepted a 15-cent hourly wage boost to end the city-wide transportation tieup which began April 1. More than 300,000 riders were affected. Buses will start at midnight.

End of the walkout followed approval by Akron city council of a fare increase effective May 19.

Baker Will Head State Hospital

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The appointment of Dr. Calvin L. Baker as superintendent of the Dayton state hospital was announced today by Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood. Dr. Baker succeeds Dr. E. L. Hooper, who retired from state service to take a position with the Veterans' Administration in Columbus.

Cancer Funds Total $1,586 With Campaign a Week Old

Does Mansfield want its cancer clinic to continue?

That was the question uppermost in the minds of campaign officials today as they counted the contributions which have trickled in to campaign coffers in such small amounts that today, after a week of solicitation, there was only $1,586.13 toward a goal of $24,000.

"So far more than 600 patients have benefited by the cancer clinic," Richard Wolford, campaign chairman, said today. "But what about the hundreds more who won't have the privilege of the clinic diagnosis if this campaign fails?

"It is more than a city problem—it is a personal one," Wolford emphasized. "For you and you and you may be the one who will most benefit by the clinic. Unless you give, you won't have that chance."

Wolford also stressed the fact that this current campaign for clinic funds is allied with the American Cancer Society drive, not the National Cancer Fund which solicited contributions several weeks ago.

"If you want to mail your donation, address it to the YMCA here," Wolford said. "And make it out to the American Cancer society. Some Mansfield folks have been mailing their checks to Washington."

Of the $24,000 goal sought here, 50 per cent goes to the national organization for research and the other half remains here for clinic work.

Navy Gives Scholarship To Shelby Boy

SHELBY — Darwin L. Sampsel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sampsel, 42 Park avenue, Shelby, has received information from the Navy department, bureau of personel, that he has been selected by the state selection committee as a principal candidate for enrollment in the Naval Reserve Officers Training corps, to begin this fall.

In this program the Navy has selected approximately 2,500 students to start their training and education in the fall of 1948. They were selected from among applicants who took the nation wide aptitude test on December 13, 1947. The candidates will attend a college or university of their own selection providing that the institution has the NROTC program.

SAMPSEL

The cost of tuition, fees, and textbooks will be paid by the government, necessary uniforms will be provided, and students will receive retainer pay for other expenses during college at the rate of $600 per year.

While attending college the candidate will select any course leading to science, plus certain minimum requirements in mathematics, physics, and English. Upon graduation, the candidates will be commissioned as ensigns, USN, and serve on active duty for approximately two years.

Officers Asked To Help Find Girl

She was described as five feet five inches tall, weighing 110 pounds, and with dark hair and eyes.

OXFORD—(AP)—The Miami Student's new editor is Miss Marilyn Chrisman, Painesville. Faculty Adviser Gilson Wright announced her election yesterday.

Plan May 1st Celebration

ASHLAND—Rained out on May day year after year only to have the sun shine brightly that very afternoon, Ashland college is planning to beat the weatherman this year.

Instead of the traditional 10 a. m. coronation on Saturday, May 15, the May day committee is changing the hour to 1 p. m.

Instead of arranging the queen's throne and other background for the May day pageant on the football field as in former years, the committee will set up the whole thing in the college gym.

If the sun is shining by noon on May 15, the throne and other settings will be moved to the football field. The committee reasons that this is no more trouble than the annual scramble of moving everything indoors at the last minute in a downpour of rain.

It's a pessimistic viewpoint but the committee believes the new arrangement may beat the rainy day jinx.

P-TA Will Meet Tonight

SHELBY—Miss Josephine Hoover, superintendent of Memorial hospital, will be guest speaker when the high school Parent-Teachers association meets tonight at 8 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

Miss Hoover will talk on scholarships available to girls wishing to enter the nursing profession.

A group of ten high school seniors will hold a round table discussion on scholarships and how to obtain them. The discussion will be directed by Robert Wendland, guidance director of the school.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO—(AP)—Grains were a little lower at the opening on the board of trade today. Some light showers were received in the southwestern winter wheat belt over the weekend, and more were predicted for today.

Wheat opened ¼-¼ cents lower, May $2.40-2.40½, corn was ½-1½ lower, May $2.16, and oats were ¼-1¼ lower, May $1.00¾-1.00. Prices declined further in the first few minutes of trading.

Ruptured Men Get $3.50 Gift For Trying This

Kansas City, Mo. — Here is an improved means of holding rupture that has benefitted thousands of ruptured men and women in the last year.

Inconspicuous, without leg straps, elastic belts, body encircling springs or harsh pads, it has caused many to say, "I don't see how it holds so easy. I would not have believed, had I not tried it."

So comfortable — so easy to wear—it could show you the way to joyous freedom from your rupture trouble.

You can't lose by trying. It is sent to you on 30 days trial. You receive a $3.50 special truss as a present for your report.

Write for descriptive circular. It's free. Just address Physician's Appliance Company, 5837 Koch Bldg., 2906 Main, Kansas City 8, Missouri.

But do it today before you lose the address.—Adv.

Even Take Congressional Directories

Germans Won't Ask; Steal Instead

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Soviet spies in Berlin are now stealing — of all things — congressional directories.

An American back from the German capital, which is now an inland island to the western allies, reports widespread espionage by German employes in secret league with the Russians.

"It is rather amateurish though," he said, "because the Germans like to tattle on each other.

"If a worker in your office is a spy and goes through your desk after you leave, the other Germans break their neck to get on a phone and tell you about him.

"They steal the oddest things — U. S. postal guides, the World Almanac, reference books on America, and even copies of the Congressional Directory. They steal public military government reports they could have for the asking.

The man said he had no idea why the Russians wanted such material unless they were trying to amass information on America or just keep their German stooges exercised.

"I had one spy spotted in my office," he said, "but I kept him on at the request of our own military intelligence, who wanted to watch him. But finally I had to bounce him.

"Then he started stealing for himself. One night he stole a telephone out of the office. The next day he had the gall to bring it in and try to sell it back to the office manager.

"That was going too far. I bounced him."

Plan to Install Floodlights In Park

BUCYRUS — A movement to raise funds by public subscription toward purchase and installation of new flood lights at Aumiller park, suitable for night baseball games, will be promoted Thursday night at a meeting of city civic groups.

Construction of a grandstand at the park, now in progress, has motivated the new lighting project. The grandstand is the gift of John Q. Shunk, retired Bucyrus industrialist. The stand is expected to be completed when the baseball season gets underway.

THAT'S A FAIR QUESTION—and the American Cancer Society welcomes this opportunity to answer it, before one of our Field Workers comes to your door for your 1948 contribution.

Part of every dollar which you and other generous Americans gave to us last year went for cancer research, part for cancer education, and part for cancer medical service.

Let's see exactly what those terms mean:

Your Money Went for Cancer Research

There exists no more powerful weapon against cancer than research. Research has given us X-ray, radium, and surgical techniques for the treatment of cancer. It is research which will deal cancer the most telling blows in the future—perhaps, please God, the deathblow which will some day wipe out this dread disease.

For some cancers, the death rate is already on the downgrade. Improved techniques of surgery and radiology now give greater hope for cure than ever before.

Thousands of scientists are engaged in cancer research right now. For this purpose they are provided with an arsenal of expensive technical equipment.

Last year, part of your money went toward the more than $3,000,000 set aside in 1947 for cancer research.

Your Money Went for Cancer Education

Education begins where research leaves off.

It distributes knowledge already gained to everyone who should have it.

The general public must be taught—over and over again—how to recognize cancer's danger signals and what to do when cancer is suspected. This is the mission of the Society's public education program.

Education requires the use of every available means of public information. It calls for booklets, posters, and billboards, radio transcriptions, magazine and newspaper messages to the public, films, and leaflets. Nearly 50,000,000 pieces of printed material alone were produced and distributed by the Society in 1947.

Your Money Went for Cancer Medical Service

Medical service backs up the direct attack against cancer. By means of scientific papers, films, lectures and other services, physicians and scientists are kept informed of the latest developments in the detection, treatment, and cure of cancer.

In your own community, the Society operates through your local division, with its Field Army of volunteer workers. These volunteers render personal aid to cancer patients—such as cancer dressings, transportation, and home services. They help establish and staff local detection centers and cancer clinics, and they publicize those facilities locally. The Field Army carries cancer control right into the home.

Seventy-five per cent of the cancer detection centers now in operation derive their support from the medical service program, which also helps to establish and support new cancer clinics.

THAT'S WHAT WE DID WITH THE MONEY YOU GAVE US LAST YEAR.
Now we need more—to fight for the one out of every eight persons still marked to be stricken by cancer. Maybe one of them is the man who sat beside you at the movies last night . . . maybe it's a person who lives on your street . . . maybe it's a friend or a member of your family . . . maybe it's you. Whoever it is, there's hope—if you give! Will you aid the fight for his life—again this year—with as big a contribution as you can possibly manage?

Don't Wait Until Someone Is Killed!

BEFORE SOMEBODY gets killed—and we mean just that—quick and positive action should be taken to stop speeding on Marion avenue. From Sturges avenue out past the junction of Maple street, Marion avenue has become a veritable speedway. Automobiles rip at high speeds during all hours of the day through this residential section of the city, past Brinkerhoff school, and across the dangerous intersection of Marion, Sherman and Maple.

Not only must children cross Marion avenue at various points to get to and from school, but older, less agile persons and mothers with babies must traverse the area going to the shopping centers near Vennum avenue and near the "island" where Sherman avenue intersects.

It is not sufficient to preach to the drivers of these speeding cars. Nor can half the traffic squad be assigned to one thoroughfare to warn or arrest speeders.

The invitation to "step on the gas" must be eliminated. There is not a single traffic light on the whole length of Marion avenue—despite the fact that within a distance of a few blocks on the street there is a school and two shopping centers.

Traffic lights at strategic points would not only automatically cut down the tendency to speed. They would also assist drivers coming out of side streets who now find their vision blocked by parked cars on both sides of Marion avenue and who literally take their lives in their hands when they try to ease into the speeding lines of traffic.

We repeat, before somebody gets killed, the city must take prompt and effective action to eliminate the Marion avenue speedway.

An Appreciation of Rudolph Hartman

SUCH VARIETY of interests entered into the active life of Rudolph W. Hartman that it is difficult to place emphasis on any one of them, except to find in his career another example of opportunities that present themselves to those who prepare to grasp them when they appear.

Whether in a boyhood job, or in the increasing responsibilities of adult life, Rudolph Hartman displayed the qualities of industry, integrity, determination and dependability which were recognized and appreciated by all who knew him, and particularly by those with whom he was associated either in the legal profession, industry, business or financial circles.

There is one phase of Mr. Hartman's life, however, that shines out so brightly as to overshadow his other accomplishments, and that is his admirable performance in the role of Father. Following the death of his wife, in 1922, Mr. Hartman was faced with the responsibility of rearing four young children—two sons and two daughters—and the success of his efforts to guide all of these children into capable and creditable manhood and womanhood was an achievement that will carry his influence long into the future.

The death of Rudolph Hartman, following so soon after the passing of his brother Ernest, heightens sorrow in the family circle and causes sadness among the large circle of friends who knew both of these men well for many years.

Television Sets Free For FCC

BRIBES take so many different forms that it is sometimes difficult to distinguish between an innocently intended gift and an outright bribe, designed to gain some favor, prevent some action or induce preferential treatment.

In the case of a public official, however, who accepts anything in gift form from an individual or company that could gain benefits from acts of favoritism, there is no question as to the proper application of the word, "bribe."

It is Senator Tobey, of New Hampshire, who directs public attention to a peculiar proceeding by which six of the seven members of the Federal Communications commission, and some of their staff, have acquired expensive television sets without paying for them.

It appears that the only exception, among FCC members, was Robert E. Jones, who refused the offer, which the spokesman for a large radio and television concern, says was a "loan," rather than a gift.

Senator Tobey expressed himself as not satisfied with the explanation that the television sets were "loaned" and said that hearings before the Senate commerce committee starting this week "would go into the way the large interests have hamstrung progress in radio circles."

The FCC has been under fire for some time, because of its assumption of authority and its arrogant handling of applications for licenses, with appearance of preferential treatment of applicants tinged with communism. A thorough congressional investigation of the whole smelly FCC setup would appear to be eminently proper procedure at this time.

Fine Arts Guild Plans May Exhibit

MANSFIELD'S Fine Arts Guild is getting ready to sponsor the third annual May Show of painting and sculpture by artists of this area. Approximately 2,000 visitors saw the exhibits at the Public library in last year's show. A number of spectators were attracted from out of the state.

But sponsorship of the show is only one of the activities of the guild in encouraging art in this area. There have been other exhibits, lectures and the free Saturday morning art classes at Liberty park for children between six and 16.

To carry on its work the guild needs funds. These are obtained through the sale of memberships. You need not be an artist to be a member and to help along the work of the guild. All the members of your family may join, if you like. Inquiries may be addressed to Mrs. H. E. Cave, membership chairman, 42 B'dmyer avenue.

What Some Other People Are Saying

ADMIRAL THOMAS C. KINKAID, commander of the eastern sea frontier: "We are straining our resources to assist the nations of the free world and we are about to bind our military strength to the end that there be no misunderstanding on the part of other nations of weakness in our desire for peace."

GEN. HOYT S. VANDENBERG, who becomes chief of the Air Force next month: "We are convinced that today Russia is manufacturing many times as many planes as we are. We do not have to choose whether or not we will meet the issue in the air. The choice has been made for us."

DAVID BEN GURION, chairman of the Jewish Agency Executive, commenting on Jewish military successes in Palestine: "The profound satisfaction of every Jew in the world hearing of the conquests and successes of our defense army cannot blind us to the grim aspects, military and political, which confront us in the near future from our open, and secret enemies."

Washington Calling

Freedom Vs. Security Viewed As Issue

By MARQUIS CHILDS

NEW YORK—The issue of Freedom versus Security is at the root of the present-day dilemma. Nowhere is it better illustrated than in the campaign of Henry A. Wallace to be president.

In the busy Wallace headquarters here, every resource of modern communication is employed to promote Wallace and his doctrines. He demands and gets the facilities of national radio networks. His own paper, the Citizen, is a skillful propaganda sheet.

Yet there are among Wallace's most ardent backers those who would change the system under which we live and, in the last resort, they would use force and violence to change it.

They subscribe to the doctrines of Marx and Lenin, who held that the capitalist system was inevitably doomed but that its passing might have to be hastened by sabotage and finally by an armed uprising.

Some of these backers would accept a dictatorship of the left in order to avoid the evils of a dictatorship of the right. Paul Robeson, one of the Wallace co-chairmen, has said as much.

This is not true, of course, of Wallace himself. He is a deeply religious man, with a passionate, mystical Christianity superimposed on his Scotch Presbyterian background. Nor is it true of most of those who will vote for him in November.

C. B. Baldwin, Wallace's campaign manager, says the estimate of a 10,000,000 vote for Wallace is conservative. If Wallace should get the same percentage as the late Robert M. La Follette sr., who ran on a third-party ticket in 1924, his vote would be 12,000,000 according to Baldwin, who has more grass-roots political knowledge than the other aides around Wallace headquarters.

Baldwin bases his prediction on a large total vote, perhaps as high as 60,000,000. The interest stirred by Wallace, Baldwin says confidently, will bring a big turnout. Furthermore, he believes the advance polls will not express Wallace's true strength, since many timid voters will wait until the secrecy of the polling booth before they express their real convictions.

* * *

Complicated Situation.

IN MY opinion the 10,000,000 figure for Wallace is quite possible. Particularly if the major contest is between President Truman and an ultra-conservative such as Speaker Joseph Martin, the protest vote is likely to be large. Analysts outside the Wallace camp have predicted 1,000,000 votes for the third party in New York.

Naturally, as in the management of any political campaign, the effort is to create a bandwagon psychology. Nor are the Wallace managers averse to having their champion wear the crown of martyrdom.

The picture of a peoples' hero persecuted by monopoly wealth and a monopoly press has an appeal to all who feel themselves picked on or frustrated.

Yet the real challenge is the one which the Wallaceites rarely speak of. It comes from the non-communist left.

The most able and effective leader of the non-communist left is Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers, who narrowly escaped assassination in his home in Detroit. Reuther licked the once-dominant pro-communist faction in the UAW and licked them in a tough fight by democratic means. He has since been engaged in cleaning up the mess they left behind.

Reuther has made the most forthright attacks on Wallace. On the west coast recently, he called Wallace "an agent of Stalin." There was serious thought in Wallace headquarters of bringing suit against Reuther for libel or slander.

While the attempted assassination of Reuther may have had nothing to do with politics—and everyone must hope that this can be established — yet the background of the hatred between the two factions of the labor-left cannot be ignored. Certainly it is in the minds of those around Reuther who fought with him against the pro-communist faction.

This is a symptom—a warning symptom. It is not hard to recall some unhappy historical parallels. In Germany, in the late '20s and early '30s, the communists waged ruthless war on the socialists. Street violence was common. This was at the time that Hitler was consolidating his forces for the nazi dictatorship.

Abuse of freedom will bring an end to freedom. It will bring an end to freedom not merely for those who believed it was expedient to exploit freedom in any way they saw fit for the purpose of their new heaven. It will bring an end to freedom for all, including those who believed in it most passionately.

There are no easy answers. But the historical parallels should sober all who have any reason left.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

'Liberalism' Has Variety of Meanings

THE New York Times recently published six definitions of liberalism, by Messrs. Truman, Wallace, Taft, Dewey, Stassen and Warren respectively. Usually, such statements, when assembled, are a jumble of meaningless words. Often the philosophies of those who participate are indistinguishable.

In this case, something comes through with great clarity, and that something might well be a hint of the real meaning of the choice before the country this year.

The statements also show the extent to which the term "liberal" has been torn from its original context and has been used to define a program of state action and state authority.

The underlying philosophies of Warren, Stassen, Dewey and Taft are substantially the same. It is interesting that in each case, the word "individual" is the center of the definition.

Taft, among other things, says: "Every true liberal must . . . determine for himself . . . which so-called liberal program is leading in the direction of thought and freedom of the individual."

Warren says: "Liberalism . . . is the political belief . . . that the individual should be the all-important precious object of consideration."

Stassen says liberalism is "the maximum of individual freedom for each man and woman consistent with the enjoying of the same degree of freedom by his or her fellow-men."

Dewey says liberalism "places first the dignity of the individual."

The similarity of thought is obvious.

President Truman's definition does not contain the word "individual." His is a program of what "we" must do, presumably for "us." He follows the familiar New Deal line of starting with what some unnamed "we," obviously meaning a government manned by people like himself, should do for people in the mass.

* * *

Traditional Meaning.

IN WALLACE'S definition, this idea is projected still further. Wallace, like Truman, does not use the word "individual." "Liberalism," he says, "is the credo of those who have no fear of the idea of change." Thus, something must be done by somebody for many somebodies. Who will do it? "The majority." That is, people in the mass. Who directs this mass?

Again, the magic word "we," presumably the self-constituted elite which includes Wallace. At the end of the Wallace definition he frankly and consciously throws out the traditional meaning of liberalism. "One of the tenets of traditional liberalism was opposition to government planning. But the pendulum has swung since the Victorian period . . ." Thus he discards the meaning of the term and keeps the label to define something else.

At this point it may be useful to recall the meaning originally given to the term—a meaning which gave the word "liberalism" such acceptance and popularity that it is now filched by Messrs. Truman and Wallace to cover the very thing it originally denied.

Liberalism, according to Guido de Ruggiero in the Encyclopedia of Social Science, is based upon a belief in "a free individual conscious of his capacity for unfettered development and self-expression." This concept can be clearly traced back through Jefferson and Madison to the very beginnings of English liberty. It is this, and not what he sneeringly calls "Victorianism," that Wallace wants to lay aside. It is reassuring that the four leaders named above are of the honored tradition.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

NEWS that whisky can be made from sawdust has shocked the carpenters' union . . . they've been throwing it away for years.

* * *

I hear the next contract will cover wages, hours and disposition of top-grade shavings.

* * *

* * *

But it was time for a change and the next "Man of Distinction" will be pictured leaning on a crosscut saw.

* * *

However I don't think there's any truth to the rumor that the drys will picket woodpeckers . . . but I wouldn't advise any man to come home late with the alibi that he's just been hanging around the lumber yard.

Some Lively Debates at Secret Caucus

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Some notes from the secret Republican House caucus—Big debate over federal aid to education, also salary raises for postal employes. Speaker Joe Martin was opposed to both. So was GOP leader Halleck of Indiana . . . "Defense comes first," said the Speaker. "After we get that out of the way, there'll be plenty of time left to take up aid to education and postal pay raises" . . . Other Republicans didn't like this much . . . After whispering with Joe Martin, Halleck finally lectured his flock: "Neither the Speaker nor I have at any time indicated to anyone what he should or should not do. I reiterate that position now. Vote your convictions." . . . Meanwhile the teachers' pay bill remains tightly blocked in committee by Rep. Fred Hartley of New Jersey. He rushed the Taft-Hartley Act out in a hurry but not pay for teachers.

* * *

Ridiculous Charge.

LOQUACIOUS Congressman Fred "Doc" Smith of Ohio fired a blast at the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill. "It's a communist measure," sputtered Smith.

"Well, we're all entitled to our opinions," retorted Ohio's George Bender. "But this is the first time I knew that Bob Taft (sponsor of the bill) was a communist."

The caucus howled.

GOP Leader Charlie Halleck pleaded with colleagues not to force bills out of committees by signing discharge petitions. (He had reference to margarine) . . . "These fellows who go around and promiscuously sign discharge petitions," moaned Halleck, "make it hard on the committees." . . . I suppose the gentleman is hinting at me," interrupted Indiana's Ed Mitchell. He pleaded guilty to circulating the petition to get the margarine tax bill out of the agriculture committee. But, snapped Mitchell: "I notice the very people who hollered about it were the very ones who jumped the gun and signed a petition with the Democrats for boosting REA (Rural Electrification Administration) appropriations." . . . "Every member has the right to do what he pleases," soothed Halleck. "But I believe in party organization. I would never sign a discharge petition myself."

* * *

Discouraging GOP Economy.

August Andresen of Minnesota came in late. He had led the fight to keep margarine under tax bondage, but he started off right away, not knowing of Mitchell's remarks.

"Some of the Republicans are helping to put over repeal of the margarine taxes," he grumbled. "That will only help the southern cotton boys. The northern dairy boys have always been the Republicans' friends, and here you are cutting their throats."

Wisconsin's Frank Keefe made an appeal for economy, criticized colleagues who vote for local, special-interest projects at the expense of Republican economy.

"It's mighty discouraging in the appropriations committee," complained Keefe, "to go over a matter and spend time on it and do what you think is right, then have some Republicans come in and knock the props out."

There was a lively debate on the question of salary raises for postal employes. Congressman Charles Vursell of Illinois spoke out against the postal wage raise, contending that government costs and expenses were too great at the present time to warrant raises for any one department . . . William H. Stevenson of Wisconsin replied blisteringly:

"It isn't our fault that the cost of living has gone up while the Democrats were in control during the last 16 years. But we must face the fact that costs have gone up, and unless we pay these experienced and loyal postal employes more money, we're going to lose them to private industry." . . . He reminded Vursell that he had voted for postal pay hikes himself.

Missouri's Bill Cole chimed in . . . Soon a heated 3-way battle was in full flare . . . "Regular order!" shouted someone and the tempest calmed.

Warned Ross Rizley of Oklahoma: "We make a mistake when we wrangle. We just don't want to go apart at the seams. The Republican party has the confidence of the people. I hope we won't get into any wrangles to upset that confidence."

* * *

They Deserve Credit.

FOUR MEN deserve chief credit for Senate passage of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill, which will provide low-cost public housing for an estimated 500,000 families in the next five years. They are: GOP Senators Charles Tobey of New Hampshire, co-author Bob Taft of Ohio, Ralph Flanders of Vermont and Democrat John Sparkman of Alabama.

Only insiders know how tirelessly Tobey worked to get the housing measure out of the banking and currency committee, which he heads.

Almost equal credit belongs to Flanders who chairmanned the subcommittee, and who teamed with Taft in blocking last-minute efforts by the real-estate lobby to gut the legislation.

Sparkman was a pillar of strength on the Democratic side. So was South Carolina's Burnet Maybank, who did yeoman service lining up Democratic support both in committee and on the floor. Democrats Alben Barkley of Kentucky, Senate minority leader, and Scott Lucas of Illinois also struck some potent blows for war vets and others affected by the housing shortage during the floor fight.

On the "debit" side, the colors of the real-estate lobby were carried by GOP Senators Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin and Harry Cain of Washington. Both battled to the last against the long-range public housing program. GOP Senator James Kem of Missouri and Spessard Holland of Florida, Democrat, gave them vigorous support.

Curb On Veto Sought

THERE are before the U.S. Congress 31 bills which, in one way or another, are calculated to deal with the abuse of the veto power whereby Russia has been hamstringing the United Nations.

All these proposals provide for a revision of the U.N. charter. However, at least a couple of them are so framed that the present U.N. could be allowed to rumble along while the anti-Red democracies formed a new organization free of Soviet interference.

These bills are concrete evidence of a strong sentiment for some action against promiscuous use of the veto. Moreover, in the U.N. membership itself we find australia—a big opponent of the veto—and Argentina leading a group of small nations to revise the charter in this respect.

The veto right is accorded the Big Five—America, Russia, Britain, France and China—in the security council, which alone can impose sanctions.

Thus far the Muscovites have used this all-powerful weapon 23 times, whereas France is the only other power to resort to it. She has used it twice.

Revision of the veto provision would, of course, be a ticklish undertaking. The United States insisted on establishment of the veto as a protection against impingement on sovereignty, and there has been no sign that the Washington government would agree to elimination.

However, America has indicated that it would like to disregard the veto except for fundamentals affecting sovereignty. Russia naturally wants to retain it in toto, and in fact undoubtedly would employ it against charter revision.

* * *

Recognize "Two Worlds."

THIS being the case, where do we turn for relief? Well, it strikes me that perhaps the situation is rapidly being taken care of by the recent creation of international organizations within the democratic bloc.

These organizations are tacit recognition that there are in truth "two worlds"—the democratic and the totalitarian communistic. It would be amazingly stupid not to recognize this when the two blocs are engaged in a "cold war" which borders dangerously on the "hot."

The organizations to which I refer are these: Last September 19 American republics met in Rio de Janeiro and signed a mutual defense treaty for the western hemisphere. A month ago Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg entered into a 50-year partnership to defend their democratic way of life against any aggressor.

Then week before last representatives of 16 western European nations and the American-British-French occupied zones of Germany met in Paris and adopted a convention binding themselves into a permanent organization for economic cooperation. These are the countries participating in the Marshall Plan, and they include Greece and Turkey.

Now then, coordinate these various organizations, all of which aim at economic rehabilitation and defense against aggression, and you have a new peace organization free of Soviet influence. And the way it looks from here, that's exactly what is happening.

That needn't interfere with the U.N. There's room enough for both. As a matter of fact the U.N. may serve a useful purpose as a sounding-board. It's the only place where the Russian viewpoint is fully aired.

Timely Editorial

Could Start At Once.

Looking forward to the possibility of an attack on the nation's capital, the District of Columbia commissioners have asked Congress for authority to evacuate the city's residents in times of "unusual peril."

We see nothing wrong with the grant of such authority so that adequate plans could be made in advance. But since the need of their use now seems remote we would suggest a practical and yet urgent expedient in the meantime.

In the absence of suitable action on its own account, why shouldn't Congress give the district commissioners authority to evacuate some of the useless government employes, with a few of the bureaus thrown in for good measure?—Kansas City Times.

Those 'Womanly Women'

By ELSIE ROBINSON

IF THERE'S anything I dread it's a Womanly Woman. I've accustomed myself to the proximity of rattlesnakes. I've slept composedly with priarie wolves counting my snores—I've mixed up with mountain lions and still kept my dinner engagement. But a Womanly Woman will send me stampeding over the range with nothing left to my expression but the whites of my eyes.

Most beasts of prey carry their weapons of offense in plain view. You know a rattlesnake's sweet and simple purpose when he opens his mouth and begins to wag his tail. You're wise to a prairie wolf the instant he shows his schnozzle. But do you know a Womanly Woman's purpose when she opens her mouth?

Not on your life. And what's more, you'd better not linger around trying to find out. If you're going to pursue happiness you'd better do it somewhere else and do it quick.

I've nothing against women as a sex. In fact I'm rather fond of them, being one of them. They'd be all right if they were content to be mere human beings like the rest of us. For that's what they are.

They are born with just the same possibilities as men. They're just as sensitive, hardy, brave, timid, inquisitive and helpless as men, neither more nor less.

If women would just get on the job they were made for and stay there they'd be all right. But no! Somewhere along the trail they acquire a divinity complex.

Don't ask me how they get that way. I wouldn't know. But I have met very few women who didn't believe that they were made of finer clay than other human beings and who weren't intent on proving it.

Sooner or later they become hell bent on being ladies. This requires an amount of fussing and fuming which is beyond my power to describe. It's everything but human but it invariably passes as such and sooner or later you'll hear somebody say, "What a dear littlew oman she is!"

It always happens and if someday you find me in flames you'll know why. It's because I have met just one more Womanly Woman than I can take.

Sewer Plan Would Help Curb Pollution

By SHELDON BINN

The danger to public health and the offensive odors caused by the pollution of the Rocky Fork because of bypassed sewage are among the things Sanitary Engineer B. V. BeVier hopes to eliminate with his proposed $1,000,000 sewer improvement program

He suggested to council recently that a 10-year sewer improvement program be undertaken as soon as possible

That the sewer system has virtually outgrown the city is made obvious by the flooded basements and the pollution of the Rocky Fork.

Flooded basements occur because the existing sewers are not adequate to service the sanitary and storm water that rushes down them during storms

So the first problem facing the sewer department is the elimination of connections between the storm and sanitary sewer systems.

The sewer department has started work on this aspect of the problem and has removed 75 per cent of the downspouts connected to the sanitary sewer system A lot more detective work exists, however.

SEWAGE ENTERS CREEKS

The stream pollution stems from two main things One is the overflow. When the existing lines are taxed beyond capacity the excess is bypassed into Touby's Run and to the Rocky Fork

Streams also are polluted because many homes are not connected to the sanitary sewers and their organic sewage goes directly into the storm water system and into Touby's Run

These unsanitary connections were made before the city regulated such matters, and it takes time and effort to change the situation Furthermore, the sewage treatment plant is being taxed to capacity, so even if the lines were connected to the sanitary sewer system, the plant couldn't service the extra load.

BeVier has drawn up a specific plan for correcting the obvious faults in the sewer system. But first the sewer department needs more money

One way to finance the needed improvement program would be to raise the sewer rate and use the extra money to finance a mortgage revenue bond issue. The present sewer department income makes the floating of a loan impossible.

The department had an income last year of $86,000 and all that money was allocated for personnel and maintenance. No funds are available for major improvements

Mansfield has one of the lowest sewer rates in the state, with an annual minimum of $2

What would be the major improvements if the rates are raised and a bond issue floated?

In the first place, BeVier estimated, 50 miles of new sanitary sewers must be laid to serve various streets all over the city.

CHANGES PROPOSED

Some of the streets without sanitary sewers are Arch street from Main street to Cleveland avenue; West Fifth street from Franklin avenue to Purdy street and portion of Ford, Bradford and Small avenues.

The 18-to-20-inch high level interceptor running from the intersection of Mulberry street and Williams avenue to the disposal plant has 16 changes in direction in eight blocks and an inadequate siphon under the Pennsylvania railroad

A new large, direct line must be built parallel to the present line because the changes in direction slow the flow and cause flooded basements. Furthermore, this line carries all sewage south of the area bounded by Park avenue and Marion avenue and is overtaxed.

A low lift 12 inch interceptor serves the north side of the city and it, too, is overtaxed and a supplemental line must be build along the same route

BeVier explained that if the system is put into shape and all the sewage is processed by the plant and not by-passed into Touby's Run, then the capacity of the sewage disposal plant must be increased It can now handle four and one half million gallons per day.

Students Seek Jobs

Applications Pour In At OSES Office

"About 350 high school and college students are expected to apply for parttime positions during the summer vacation," C W. Handley, manager of the Mansfield office of the Ohio State Employment Service, said.

Inquiries from approximately 50 high school students have already been received he said

"Prospects for summer work in industrial plants may not be too strong this year, but some orders are already coming in," he added. "We would like to encourage all high school students who desire jobs to make their applications early so that we will be able to place them as quickly as possible."

Positions for light factory assembly ing, stenographers, typists, and farm help probably will be the first spots filled Students interested in such positions should get their applications in early.

Encouraging news for jobhunters is the fact that the local OSES office expects a 20 per cent increase in placements this month over the 290 handled in March Last month the Mansfield office placed sixth in the state in job placements.

"What this country amounts to depends on what happens to its homes" . . . That's why the life insurance companies and their agents are bringing you this series of messages from the nation's foremost authorities, to help you plan for happiness in the handling of your family money (This is Message No. 35.)

Should wives work, too?

Can a wife have a paying job and a happy home, too? A well-known authority points out some facts that should be considered in each case

Every minute counts when you run a home and a job!

By FRANK J. HERTEL
General Director, Family Service Association of America

FRANK J. HERTEL

MORE THAN ONE IN FOUR American workers is a woman . . . and about one in three of these women workers is married! Some wives plan to work just a short time to earn extra money for the family. Others work because they enjoy their careers. Most of them must work to make ends meet.

Can wives work and run happy homes, too? In many cases, yes . . . but it takes careful management. Let's look at a recent case in which the advice of one of our family counselors was sought.

When Helen and Bob Bates (not their real names, of course), set up their home, they had to go pretty heavily in debt. Helen wanted to go to work for a while to help out, but Bob argued that "a woman's place is in the home." Helen finally persuaded Bob to talk it over with a counselor, and he felt better about her working after discussing the pro's and con's. They asked us how other couples went about it.

Both must do their part

We told Helen that a job and housework can be tiring—and that tired bodies can cause short tempers. That was something to guard against.

We told Bob that he would have to give up some home comforts, and would have to help around the house.

How much extra money? We advised them not to count on all of Helen's pay as extra income. That's because her job would involve expenses that she would not have as a full-time housewife.

Who spends what? The best rule, we said, is to think of both pay checks as "our" money . . . and to manage it through a family budget, reserving small sums for each for personal spending

Part-time work? If the wife finds her load too heavy, she might consider part-time work—often a good solution if she is a mother Or perhaps she can find a less tiring job. Or perhaps there are still more short cuts in housework the wife can use?

Set a goal! In a case like Helen and Bob's, all the wife's income should not be used for day-to-day living costs. Some should be saved regularly for a definite goal. Helen and Bob figured that if she kept her job for two years, they could pay off their debt. After that they could decide if she would become a full-time housewife.

The important thing, in every case, is for the husband and wife to sit down and discuss the question fully . . . with facts, not emotions!

What's your actual money gain?

Don't expect the wife's entire salary to be extra income! To figure how much you both are really ahead, subtract from her pay.

1. extra money spent on clothes, carfare, lunch, laundry, pressing, etc.
2. addition to income tax
3. cost of substitute care for children and house
4. what she'd save as a full-time housewife, by more careful marketing, etc.

Work it out together!

How to PLAN for Family Happiness

• Planning a smooth-running household when both husband and wife work is only part of sound money planning. You'll be more likely to have enough money on hand when you need it if you'll follow these few simple rules:

FOR TODAY . . . The first thing, for most families, is to take care of the larger fixed items such as rent, taxes, insurance, mortgage and installment payments, etc. So start by adding up all your fixed items for the year, divide by 52, and set aside that amount weekly.

Also, every family should have a "rainy day" fund equal to at least four weeks' income. Set aside a little every week until you have that much. Then you'll know how much you can spend for food, clothing, heat, light, amusement, and so forth.

FOR TOMORROW . . . We live in a changing world. Family needs and circumstances change . . . living costs . . . taxes. If you have not had your life insurance program reviewed lately, the chances are 2 to 1 that it should be brought up to date.

There are so many ways in which you can use your life insurance that you should have the life insurance you now own checked to see if it is suited to your needs. This is a service that comes with your life insurance

The person best equipped to help you with this is the well-trained life insurance agent. Get in touch with your agent, or write your life insurance company. INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE, 60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N Y.

COX-COLBY NUPTIAL VOWS EXCHANGED ON SUNDAY

Formal Open Church Ceremony Solemnized At 2:30 for Prominent Mansfield Couple

THE marriage service, the wedding veil and the tall tapers decorating the reception serving table, for the marriage of Miss Carolyn Cox and William Colby, were traditional, as all had been used in marriages of the bride's sisters. Miss Cox, daughter of Mrs. Rupert F. Cox sr., and the late Mr. Cox, 554 Cook road, was a lovely bride in the formal open church service solemnized Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the First Lutheran Church.

Rev. Carveth Mitchell officiated for the exchange of vows before an altar decorated with palms, lighted seven branch candelabra and two beauty baskets of white glads, snapdragons and stock.

Preceding the service a program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Elsa Cox Hamilton, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Wanda Hess Donnan was the vocal soloist. Before the benediction, "The Lord's Prayer", by Malotte, was sung by Mrs. Donnan.

Given in marriage by her brother, Rupert F. Cox jr., the bride approached the altar wearing a light ivory satin gown made with a pointed midriff, beaded in crystal beads. The same design, which was used on the belt, was carried out on the tiny Peter Pan collar. The sleeves were long and tight, ending in points over the hands. Numerous buttons closed the back to the waistline. The skirt fell into a very wide train and the top of the skirt, over the hips, gave a bouffant effect with stiff crinoline underneath.

Completing her ensemble was a full length train of silk illusion and a fingertip length circular veil which was attached to a pearl beaded Juliet style cap. The veil was first worn by Emily Cox Beard and later by Mary Cox Catlett, Nancy Cox Allen and Mary Mitchell Cox, sisters and sister-in-law of the bride. Her wedding bouquet was Kaferette style of gardenias.

Mrs. Albert Allen jr. of Wooster, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. John L. Catlett and Mrs. Robert H. Beard, her sisters. All the attendants wore like-styled gowns of stiff taffeta in a Bluet Blue. They were made with wide Sweetheart necklines, slightly draped and tiny folds formed the very short sleeves. The skirts were wide and full-sweeping to the back, forming a slight train. Detachable gauntlets of the taffeta completed their lovely costumes. They carried cascades of gardenias.

Timothy Robert Beard, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer, attired in a white suit. He carried the ring on a white satin heart-shaped pillow.

Mrs. Cox chose for her daughter's wedding a coral crepe floor length gown with black accessories and wore a gardenia corsage.

Ushering the guests to their pews were Richard C. Cox, of Newburgh, N. Y., brother of the bride, Robert H. Beard of Mansfield, brother-in-law of the bride, Albert L. Allen jr. of Wooster, brother-in-law of the bride, and Coleman B. Todd of Mansfield.

The wedding party and Mrs. Cox received guests at the altar of the church following the ceremony.

Later a reception for 150 guests was held at the Mansfield Leland Hotel. The serving table was decorated with the tall lighted tapers, used at four previous weddings in the family, bouquets of the bride and her attendants and the base of the four tiered wedding cake was decorated with maidenhair fern.

The newlyweds left later in the day for a trip to Toronto, Canada. For traveling Mrs. Colby wore a three piece sea aqua suit with cocoa shade accessories and a gardenia corsage, which was taken from the center of her bridal bouquet.

After May 3 the couple will reside at 158 West Second street.

Mrs. Colby was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and was a WAVE for two years, stationed in Washington, D. C. She is a member of Delta Theta Tau sorority. She has been employed as a clerk-stenographer at the Mansfield Police Department.

Mr. Colby, who was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school, was graduated from FBI National Academy, Washington, D. C. and spent two and one half years overseas with the 45th Division. At the time of his discharge he was a first Lieutenant in Officers Reserve.

He is a member of the Mansfield Police Department.

Out-of-town guests in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cartnal of New Castle, Pa., Mrs. William Terry of Amityville, Long Island, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Colby and son James of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. K. Rudolph of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Sparrow of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dietzel of Oxford and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Allen jr. of Wooster.

Mrs. Cartnal and Mrs. Terry are sisters of the bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. O. A. Colby and the late Mr. Colby. Mr. Colby has been residing at 158 West Second street.

A rehearsal party was held Saturday evening at the Cox home. Guests in attendance were members of the wedding party, their husbands and wives, sisters and their husbands. A buffet supper was served later in the evening. Miss Cox presented her attendants with gifts of jewelry and Mr. Colby gave his ties.

Miss Gabor Wed To Mr. Reinoehl In Church Rite

On Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock Miss Adeline G. Gabor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gabor, Park avenue west road, became the bride of Frank W. Reinoehl, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Reinoehl, Route 4, Mansfield. Nuptial vows were exchanged before the altar of the First Lutheran Church, with Rev. Carveth Mitchell officiating.

Mrs. Clayson Bell presided at the organ for the program of wedding music. Baskets of mixed spring flowers, ferns and palms formed a pretty background for the service.

Miss Gabor wore an aqua gaberdine suit with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Miss Jackie Weigler of Amoy-Pavonia road, was her maid of honor

Mrs. Gabor, mother of the bride, chose for her daughter's wedding a gray gaberdine suit with black accessories and wore a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Reinoehl wore an orchid dress with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Peter Hergatt served as best man for Mr. Reinoehl.

Following the service a reception was held in the church parlors with 60 guests attending. The bride's table was decorated with arrangements of jonquils and a three tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom.

Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Reinoehl left for a trip through the eastern states. For traveling the bride wore her wedding ensemble.

She was graduated from Springfield Township high school and is employed as a stenographer at the H. E. Neese Insurance Agency. Mr. Reinoehl, a graduate of Madison high school and Mansfield Business Training School, is employed at the Tappan Stove company.

Teen Talk—

Gossip From M. H. S.

By ANN SCHOENMAN

THE LAST MINUTE rush is creeping up on the seniors for the senior prom, class day, baccalaureate services, Shaw's dance, and commencement. They are making plans for the parties and other happy events which will take place, and will fill some of the fondest memories of their lives.

Cliff Hardin, Dick Ziegler, and Carl Letizia were quite an attraction when they walked into Delta Sigma Zeta sorority meeting recently . . . It's getting bad when you can't remember your own birthday. Gizella Knefely let it slip that she forgot hers. Remember it now, Gizzie? . . . Shirley Brigham has a new hair style. It's nice and short . . . Here's hoping that Terry Stoodt is feeling much better and will soon be back in the old groove. . . . Dody Aubrey has the heavy identification bracelet of Ken Navratil on her wrist . . . Some other girls to have their locks cut to be in style for the New Look are Ellen Bromfield and Charlene Hamilton . . . What is Dorothy Zivkoff doing in Michigan?

* * *

Nancy Oblinger is looking for a formal for the prom to attend with Bill Richey . . . Sarah "Jake" Elmas has a date for the prom. She will make her appearance with Johnny McCarrick . . . What happened to Marian Haring the other day while in swimming? . . . Gerri Stall and Fritz Miller aren't going to the prom together now . . . The Junior Hi-Y boys sponsored a hay-ride Friday evening. I hear that a good time was had by all . . . How are two certain senior boys privileged enough to go to the same hay-ride?

* * *

If you see the halls of MHS snowed under with little pieces of white paper, don't get alarmed. It's only the paper between their name cards . . . Invitations are also being distributed in each home room . . . Charleen Hamilton had the funniest look on her face when George Sherman asked her which hand she was wearing a certain ring on. He had even a funnier one when she told him it was her left . . . Ann Rich and Johnny McVicker will be seen at the prom together.

* * *

Some sad faces were seen in the halls when the students realized that grade cards will be passed Monday . . . The girls in the fifth period gym class should buy Betty Calmes a new pair of glasses or not let her get so wrapped up in the relay races. She was hopping down the gym floor like mad the other day and ran smack into the wall . . . Ruth Ann Bush looked very sophisticated Friday in her black moire dress.

I told you last week that I would give you the outcome of voting on how the seniors are going to march on class day, but since the election doesn't take place until Monday, you'll have to wait until next Sunday.

Esther Bible Club Hears Rev. Davey

Members of the Esther Bible club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Foster Ost, 149 Bartley avenue. Eight members and one guest, Mrs. Reader, responded to roll call quoting a Bible verse. Mrs. J. H. Stottler led devotions on the subject of "Faith" reading selected verses from Hebrews and Ephesians.

The guest speaker was the Rev. James E. Davey of the Third Street Grace Gospel church. He gave a resume on the book of Romans.

The next meeting will be May 13 at the home of Mrs. Cleo Rein, 390 Marion avenue, with Mrs. M. R. Hopper assisting her. Mrs. C. I. Loos will lead devotions and Mrs. J. H. Stottler will be in charge of the lesson study.

Formal Wedding Solemnized at First Methodist Church Here

AT 2:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon, Miss Ruth Phyliss Allgire, daughter of Mrs. Edna G. Allgire, 323 Park avenue west, and Richard Charles Lehnhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Lehnhart, of Lexington, exchanged wedding vows before an altar banked with palms, beauty baskets, and four candelabra in the First Methodist church with the Rev. Charles Stoneburner officiating. Mrs. Willis Naas was the organist and Miss Imogene Backus was the soloist.

The bride wore a white satin gown of period style. The neckline was of marquisette bordered with satin centered with a cluster of orange blossoms. The front of the full skirt was caught at four points with orange blossoms. The dress was designed and made by the bride and her mother. The full length veil, bordered in lace was made by her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Murphy Allgire. The bride wore a necklace of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweetpeas and white roses outlining a purple orchid.

Mrs. Marian Lillian Wells, Mt. Vernon, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a spring green silk dress caught at the bottom at two places with small bows. Her headband was of green horsehair and she had matching glovettes. Her gown was styled like the bride's.

Miss Wilma Jean Bechtel from Bellville and schoolmate of the bride, and Miss Jean Connor, close friend of the bride, were the bridesmaids. They wore gowns of spring pink taffeta like the matron of honor's and matching horsehair headpieces and glovettes. They carried arrangements of spring shades of sweetpeas on white Bibles, gifts of the bride.

The two flower girls were Miss Beverly Jean Allgire and Miss Sarah Louise Allgire, nieces of the bride. They were dressed in full length taffeta dresses like the bridesmaid's. Beverly Jean wore pink and Sarah Louise, green. They carried baskets of spring shaded rose petals.

Mrs. Allgire chose for her daughter's wedding a steel blue Bemberg print with black accessories. Mrs. Lehnhart wore an aqua dress with black accessories. Both mothers had pink camellia corsages.

The ushers were Arnold Allgire, brother of the bride, from Fredericktown, Howard Bletz, cousin of the groom, from Athens, Ohio, James Connor, friend of the groom, and Ralph Griffith, friend of the groom. The best man was Willis Lehnhart, brother of the groom, from Lexington.

A reception for 120 guests was held at the home of the bride immediately following the ceremony. The decorations were in keeping with the color scheme of pink and green. The table was centered with a five tiered cake with pink and green candles on each side.

The new Mrs. Lehnhart chose a tan suit with dark brown accessories for her going away outfit. She wore the orchid from her wedding bouquet. They will spend their honeymoon traveling through the southern states. After June 1, Mr. and Mrs. Lehnhart will be at home on South Main street road.

Mrs. Lehnhart graduated from Fredericktown high school and has been employed at the Hartman-Spreng company as a secretary. Mr. Lehnhart was graduated from Madison high school and is farming following his 32 months service in the U. S. Army.

Barr-Jackson Nuptials Read On Sunday

In a formal open church service, attended by 300 guests, Miss Bernice Barr, 34 Western avenue, became the bride of Frederick Jackson, nephew of Louis Ackerman, 494 South Main street, Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Matthew G. Madden, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiated at the Park avenue Baptist Church at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. Madden and Richard Graham attended the couple.

Palms, ferns and beauty baskets of spring flowers formed the background for the nuptials. The bride was attired in a white formal gown, with long white gloves and a headpiece of white flowers held in place the white illusion veil.

They will make their home at the Western avenue address. Mr. Jackson is affiliated with the Manfield Lodge No. 35, F. & A.M.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, April 27.

PROPITIOUS aspects of leading planets promise a day of decisive efforts in the direction of a cherished fulfillment of most desired hopes and wishes, whether these lie in promotion, preferment, enhanced prestige and popularity, financial security, or in the pleasanter pathways of romance, parties, celebrations of domestic or spiritual felicity. A sound, wise, reasonable and judicious consolidation of the assets and influence at command, may move at high tempo toward the most wanted goals. Be alert to small duplicities or intrigues.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of definite advancement upon the goal of heart's desires, whether this be in the realm of home, romance, social or professional prestige, financial or influential accumulations, in which ultimate happiness and well-being may be realized. But objectives must be meritorious, the endeavors carefully and cautiously consolidated, and the ambitions and aspirations noble and purposeful. Much festivity, parties, and gaiety are indicated probably in connection with romantic or social celebration of major events.

A child born on this day will have large and noble aims and aspirations, with the energy, ability and character to attain its cherished goals.

Steel Price Trend Called Uncertain

Talk Of General Advance Stilled

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The price slash announced last week by U. S. Steel corporation startled the entire industry, and the future trend of overall steel prices now is uncertain, the Magazine Steel said today.

"Strong tone prevails in the steel markets," Steel said, "but talk of a likely general advance in prices soon has been stilled, for the moment at least" by U. S. Steel's action.

"It remains to be seen" whether other major steelmakers will follow U. S. steel's lead on both prices and wages, Steel said.

The magazine said the estimated $25,000,000 annual reduction is "more than twice as large" as the corporation's increases last February on semifinished steel.

PRODUCTION GAINS

Steel production, meanwhile, is recovering and should return to normal "within two weeks or so" if the miners' back-to-work movement continues, the trade journal said.

Some effects of the coal strike, it said, were the loss of more than 1,330,00 tons of steel and a blow to hopes that supply and demand soon could be balanced in several major steel products.

However, Steel said, some steelmakers believe a new peacetime weekly production can be set before the end of the current quarter because of increased scrap supplies and the end of the gas and fuel oil shortages.

The national ingot rate recovered 2½ points last week to 75.5 per cent of capacity, Steel said. Operations advanced 7 points to 68 per cent in Eastern Pennsylvania, 31 to 72 at Birmingham, 9 to 82.5 at Pittsburgh and 1 to 51 at Youngstown. Ohio river floods forced a decline of 33 points to 52 per cent at Cincinnati and elsewhere the rate dropped 10 points to 72 per cent at Wheeling, 4½ to 85 at St. Louis, 1½ to 85 at Chicago and ½ to 95.5 at Cleveland.

Prices Cut On Washers

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The Bendix Home Appliance corporation announced a 15 per cent slash in the retail price of its automatic washing machines, effective today.

The cut, averaging $45 on each machine, was agreed upon by the company and its distributors as an attempt to halt the "rising spiral of inflation," according to Raymond Rosen, of the distribution firm.

The new prices will be tried for a "reasonable period," perhaps three months, to determine whether they develop additional volume, Rosen said.

Gentle But Tough

Alcatraz's New Warden Seeks Reform

DENVER — (AP) — Any of the desperate convicts at Alcatraz who think they'll find a soft touch in their new warden are in for a shock.

Edwin B. Swope, who takes over the grim rock in San Francisco bay April 30, sounds like a nice fall guy. He looks more like a contented college philosopher than a federal warden.

Swope believes in reform. He looks on prisoners as human beings who deserve a break. "No criminal is hopeless," he says. But he can be plenty tough.

Since Nov. 1, 1944, he's been handling bad boys—all under 21—as warden of the federal correctional institution near Englewood, a Denver suburb. The boys in the classrooms and dairy barns aren't like the grim men who are in Alcatraz because they couldn't get along with murderers and thieves at other federal prisons.

Swope knows what's he's getting into as successor to James A. Johnston who had spent 15 tiring years trying to keep peace at the escape-proof prison. He visited Johnston, a personal friend, at Alcatraz last year.

"It will be different all right," Swope said in an interview.

He looks on the new job as a heavy responsibility but he's taking along some hope of reforming inmates in the toughest federal penitentiary.

"Alcatraz gets all the rotten apples out of the barrel," he said. "If you can get a new seed to grow in one rotten apple, you're on the right track."

Swope restated his belief that corporal punishment has no place in modern prisons, then added, "don't think I'm telling a sob story. I'm supposed to be a pretty tough guy."

His pretty brunette wife, Edna, who is moving with him, laughed at this. But she reflects no doubts on his ability to handle the job.

"I think he's the finest warden in the world," she said.

Swope, 59, was born in Santa Fe, N. M. As an active politician he was New Mexico state Democratic chairman, state land commissioner and Bernalillo county treasurer.

While Albuquerque city commissioner in the 1920's, he was revolted at conditions in the city jail. It was then Swope decided to go into prison work. But he waited until he completed a drive to clean up the local jail.

Starting in 1930, Swope was successively warden of the New Mexico penitentiary; the federal penitentiary at McNeil Island, Wash., and the federal prison at Terre Haute, Ind.

A month after he moved to Englewood, announcing a lenient program of rehabilitation, the boys tried to stage a riot. Swope quelled it in less than an hour. There have been no more riots.

With a classification system, broadened basic and vocational education, voluntary night school classes and a full sports and recreation program, it's been pleasant enough if a boy followed the rules. One misstep, however, and he lost his privileges.

Piles Are Never "Mild"
DANGER IN NEGLECT
Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.
Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, billiousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.
Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.
Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

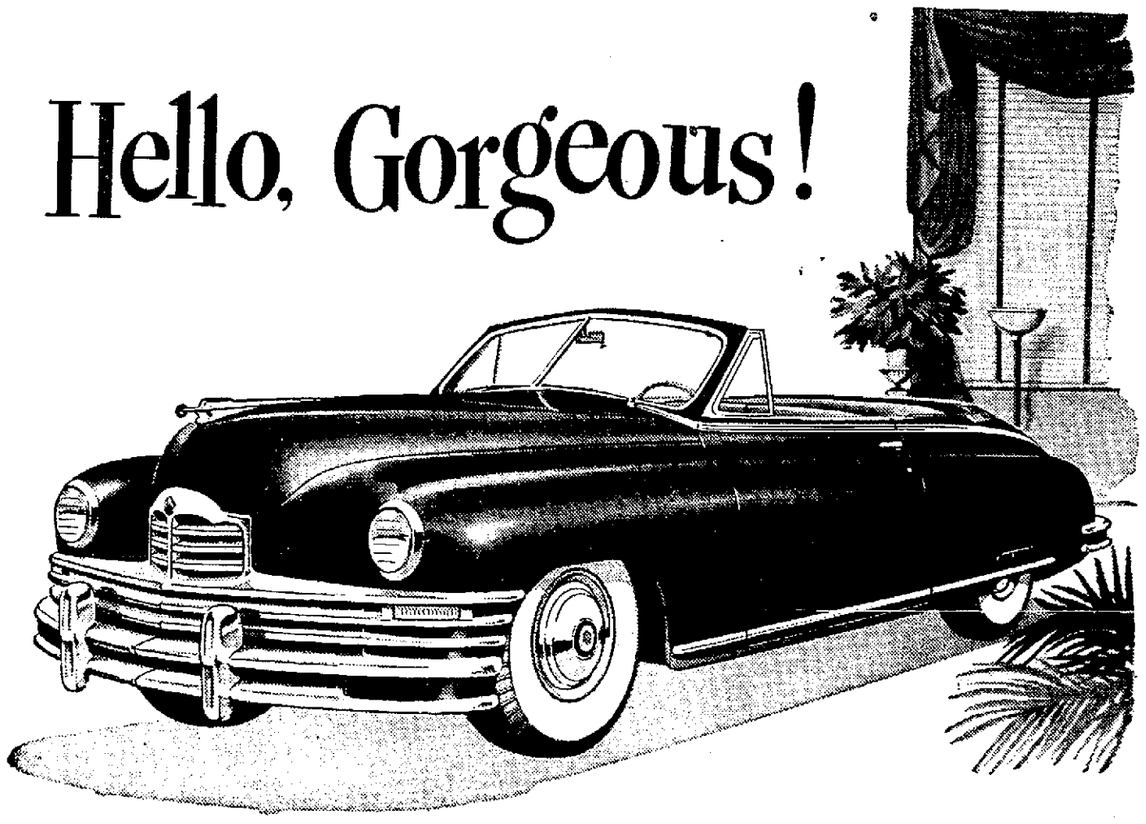
Hello, Gorgeous!



Come in—meet the glamour queen of the motor car world!

If Atlantic City were holding a beauty contest for automobiles this year, there'd be no question about the winner.

And it's beauty that's backed by brawn and brains. Its newly engineered chassis gives this Packard a safety, a rigidity, a glued-to-the-road stability new to this type of car. Its roomy, low-slung body is the quietest any Packard convertible ever had.

The new engines—whether the 145-h.p. Super or the 160-h.p. Custom—well, you've never known performance that could touch theirs. And every interior appointment is what you'd expect in the finest Packard ever built.

But come in and meet this dazzling darling. From the very first glance, there'll be a new love in your life!
